

Acknowledgments ix

Note on Transliteration, Place Names, Dates, and Administrative Units xiii

Introduction: The Ostbahn and European Mobilities
in the Railroad Age 1

1. Berlin and the Ostbahn: Railroads as Vehicles of Change 22
2. Aleksandrów: A Border Station at the Center of Imperial Power and Polish Nationalism 57
3. The Vistula Bridge at Dirschau (Tczew): National in Form,
Transnational in Content 86
4. Eydtkuhnen and Verzhbolovo: International Travel and a Continental Divide 109
5. Königsberg: At the Intersection of Land and Seaborne Trade 139
6. Kaunas–Eydtkuhnen–New York: Emigration Routes 167
7. The First World War and Its Aftermath: Cutting Lines,
Creating New Links 196

Epilogue: An Interrupted European Corridor 226

Glossary of Place, Region, and River Names in Different Languages 237

Bibliography 245

Index 283