

Foreword	9
 I. A New Beginning in the “Wild” East	15
Lange Is Back	15
A New Era	23
The Historic Family Headquarters in Glashütte.	30
A Beginning in the Ore Mountains	34
 II. Lange in Saxony - A Tradition	47
A Leading Seat of Industry	47
The First Pocket Watches	51
Mastery Continues	55
Luxury Watches in Trouble: The End of the Heyday	58
Crisis after the War	61
Machines Arrive in Glashütte	62
A Completely Normal Family	66
Scepticism about the National Socialists	67
A Wall-Clock Kit	71
War on the Eastern Front.	74
Severe Jaundice Causes Return to Saxony	80
Wounded Escape across the Baltic Sea	82
Miraculous Return.	91
The Last Day of the War: Glashütte Bombed.	94
Russian Chronometers with Lange Characteristics .	95
The Back and Forth of Expropriation.	100
 III. In the West	107
Acknowledged as an East German Refugee	107
Off to Pforzheim with Little More than a Cardboard
Box	113
The Quartz Crisis	117

Journeying Back to My Roots in the GDR	119
Success in the “New” States	125
The Approachable Lange	128

IV. About Walter Lange 135

Walter Lange and His Glashütte	135
Appreciation for Walter Lange and His Life’s Work	141
Award-Winning Wristwatches.	141
Honoured and Revered.	143
A Philosophy of Life.	146
A Ticking Tribute to Walter Lange	147

Walter Lange and the Young Talents	150
--	-----

Firsthand Encounters: Memories of People Who Knew Him 153

Proper, Reliable, and Trustworthy
By Hartmut Knothe, Former Managing Director	154
Here Comes Herr Lange
By Katja König, Apprentice Instructor	158
Always with the People
By Tino Bobe, Director of Manufacturing	161
Can You Show Me Something?
By Anthony de Haas, Director of Product Development	163
He Was the Heart of the Company
By Wilhelm Schmid, CEO	165
We Sowed the Seeds in 1976 Without Knowing It
By Martin Huber.	169
So Much Admiration
By Benjamin Lange	174

Acknowledgements 181

Glossary 183

Biographical Register 187