

Contents

Illustrations and musical examples	6
Preface	9
I Introduction: Henze's Drei Tentos and their generic contexts	11
1. Who's afraid of... writing for the guitar?	11
2. ...not Henze!	19
3. Enter: the Tentos	22
II Henze's Drei Tentos and the networks of Kammermusik 1958	25
1. A slow selling score and its canonical extracts	25
2. Modular needs and virtues	27
3. The downturn of Henze's vocal Kammermusik 1958	57
III Semantic networks and pitfalls	69
1. To Greece and back	69
2. ›Spanish‹ Tentos?	71
3. A ›lovely poem‹: setting Hölderlin	74
IV Compositional networks	79
1. The Tentos and Der sechste Gesang	79
2. Settling the Tentos	82
3. The Tentos' wider networks in the vocal movements	99
V Understanding the Tentos ?	105
1. Bewildering headlines	105
2. Lachenmann's discomfort	106
3. The futile tagging of the Tentos' utopia	111
4. Potential lines of defence	112
VI Postscript, with some concluding remarks	121
Appendix	125
Appendix I: Complete transcriptions of unpublished correspondence	127
Appendix II: References	131