

Contents

Acknowledgements.....9

1 Introduction11

1.1 Access points 11

1.2 Aims and objectives 13

1.3 Scope and relevance 15

1.4 Walkthrough 17

2 Theoretical horizon.....19

2.1 The concept of heritage 19

2.2 Heritage as capital 23

2.3 Colonial history and shared heritage..... 25

2.4 Museums, historic landscapes, and the community..... 27

2.5 Heritage-based livelihoods and sustainable development 29

2.6 Summary 31

3	Materials and methods.....	33
3.1	Philosophical underpinnings.....	33
3.2	Methodology.....	35
3.3	The study area.....	37
3.3.1	Heritage and development in Tanzania.....	37
3.3.2	Iringa and the Southern Highlands.....	38
3.4	The case – fahari yetu Tanzania.....	41
3.4.1	Formation of the programme.....	41
3.4.2	Involved actors.....	42
3.4.3	Goals and objectives.....	43
3.4.4	Programme activities.....	44
3.5	Process of inquiry.....	47
3.6	Data sources.....	49
3.6.1	Fieldwork and participant observation.....	50
3.6.2	Documents and physical materials.....	51
3.6.3	Life story interviews.....	52
3.6.4	Focus group discussions.....	52
3.7	Data analysis and presentation.....	53
3.8	Positionality – The observing participant.....	55
3.9	Ethical considerations.....	56
3.10	Summary.....	57
4	European footsteps in the land of the Chief – Interpreting the shared history of Iringa.....	61
4.1	Introduction.....	61
4.2	Mpangile Wangimbo and the history of the Hehe chiefdom.....	62
4.2.1	Biographical access.....	63
4.2.2	From chieftain’s seat to death row.....	64
4.2.3	Mpangile’s execution – Tales of betrayal and redemption.....	67
4.2.4	Aftermath – of human remains and their whereabouts.....	72
4.3	Legacies of the Schutztruppe	76
4.3.1	Biographical access.....	76
4.3.2	Grandfather Max and the history of New Iringa.....	76
4.3.3	Taabu, Issa, and the story of the askari.....	81
4.3.4	Parents Hans and Anna – From British times to independence.....	85
4.3.5	Sophia, Caesar, and their siblings – Transition to modern Tanzania..	88

4.4	A European settlers' perspective.....	90
4.4.1	Biographical access.....	90
4.4.2	Jobst's childhood – Iringa between the wars.....	91
4.4.3	Meeting Liz – From post-war boom to life in independent Tanzania	96
4.5	Discussion	98
5	Iringa Boma and the cityscape – Exploring the politics of shared heritage conservation.....	103
5.1	Introduction	103
5.2	Iringa Boma – The built heritage.....	105
5.2.1	History of the building.....	105
5.2.2	Community notions.....	108
5.3	The exhibition – Representing the culture and history of Iringa.....	113
5.3.1	Exhibition collection and design.....	113
5.3.2	Narrating colonial history and resistance.....	117
5.3.3	Interpreting indigenous culture.....	121
5.3.4	Representing community diversity.....	123
5.3.5	Engaging visitors.....	124
5.3.6	Community responses.....	125
5.4	Reaching out into the cityscape	131
5.4.1	Upgrading of selected sites	132
5.4.2	Towards an integrated urban history trail.....	134
5.4.3	Integrating Old Iringa with New Iringa	139
5.5	Discussion	141
6	Vernacular culture and heritage-based community livelihoods.....	145
6.1	Introduction	145
6.2	Bonnie Lulenga – Living heritage through music.....	147
6.2.1	Inheriting the craft.....	148
6.2.2	Between preservation and innovation.....	149
6.2.3	Creating livelihoods.....	151
6.2.4	fahari yetu and Iringa Boma	153
6.3	Juhudi na Maarifa – Moulding life through pottery.....	154
6.3.1	Pottery making.....	155
6.3.2	From conservation to innovation to empowerment.....	158
6.3.3	Challenges and the role of fahari yetu.....	160

6.4	Vikapu Bomba – Empowering women through basket weaving	162
6.4.1	Marketing Iringa baskets – Conserving heritage through innovation	164
6.4.2	Community livelihoods and economic empowerment	167
6.4.3	Aspects of socio-cultural empowerment	169
6.4.4	Partnering with Iringa Boma.....	171
6.5	Discussion	172
7	Concluding reflection and outlook	177
7.1	Theoretical synthesis.....	178
7.1.1	Cultural implications	178
7.1.2	Social implications	181
7.1.3	Economic implications.....	182
7.2	Methodological issues	185
7.2.1	Ethnography and the juxtaposition of generality and specificity	185
7.2.2	Reflexivity and positionality	186
7.3	Conclusion.....	189
	Bibliography.....	191
	References.....	191
	Archival sources	200
	Primary data	200
	List of abbreviations and acronyms.....	203
	List of figures and illustration credits.....	205