

List of Contributors	vii
Acknowledgements	xii
1 Introduction: 'Compromised Identities?' Stephanie Bird, Mary Fulbrook, Stefanie Rauch and Bastiaan Willems	1
Part I Theorizing ambiguity, compromise and complexity
2 'Compromised identities?', ageing perpetrators and compromising forgiveness Stephanie Bird	21
3 Conformity, compliance and complicity: 'Ordinary people' and the Holocaust Mary Fulbrook	35
4 Complicities, re-presented: Literary portrayals in totalitarianism and neoliberalism Juliane Prade-Weiss	52
5 In search of the bystander: Some reflections on the 'social turn' in Holocaust studies and its ramifications Christina Morina	67
Part II Confrontations with violence
6 Studying East European perpetrators: The case of Belarus Leonid Rein	85
7 Compromising roles: German actresses in German-occupied Minsk Anne-Lise Bobeldijk	99
8 Gender and transgressive violence in post-war accounts Stefanie Rauch	113
9 Israeli national narratives, complicity and activism: Noam Chayut's The Girl Who Stole My Holocaust and Breaking the Silence Nina Fischer	129
Part III Law, complicity and perpetration
10 The constitutive role of Nazi law: Constructing complicity in the Third Reich Simon Lavis	145
11 Public execution in your community: The summary courts of 1945 Germany Bastiaan Willems	159
12 Excess and normality: West German and Austrian media and Nazi crimes trials from the 1950s to the 1980s Christoph Thonfeld	173

13	Pinochet's accomplices: Perpetration, civilian complicity and individual versus institutional culpability in domestic atrocity crime accountability Francisco Bustos, Cath Collins and Francisco Ugás	187
Part IV Framing the past
14	Perpetrator memory and the fascist exile in Argentina: A case study Zoltán Kékesi	205
15	Complicity versus cooperation: Zygmunt Bauman's Modernity and the Holocaust and Claude Lanzmann's Shoah and its outtakes Sue Vice	219
16	Challenging the museum visitor? Complicity and perpetration during and beyond the Second World War in contemporary museum exhibitions Stephan Jaeger	235
17	Compromised identities? Reflections on perpetration and complicity under Nazi rule: An exhibition Stephanie Bird, Mary Fulbrook, Stefanie Rauch and Bastiaan Willems	250
18	Conclusion Stephanie Bird, Mary Fulbrook, Stefanie Rauch and Bastiaan Willems	270
Index		277