

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements 11

Introduction 13

I. Methodological Issues 17

1. The Topic and Its Research Rationale 17

2. The Subject and Purpose of Research 19

3. Status quaestionis 20

4. An Outline of the Theory of Metaphor and Its Meaning in the Context of the Johannine Gospel 26

4.1 Classical Theories of Metaphor 26

4.2 The Interactive Theory of Metaphor 28

4.3 The Theory of Cognitive Metaphor with Conceptual Blending 29

4.4 Metaphor versus the Theological Language of the Bible 33

4.5 Conceptual Metaphor Theory versus the Johannine Images of Wine, Water, and Bread 35

5. Method of the Study 38

5.1 Intertextual Analysis as a Method of Studying Biblical Texts 38

5.2 Types of Criteria for Intertextual Analysis 42

5.3 Criteria of Intertextual Analysis Adopted in the Present Work 46

5.4 Stages of Identifying the Phenomenon of Allusion or Echo 52

6. The Criterion of Availability 56

II. The Metaphor of Wine 65

1. Status quaestionis of the Sapiential Background of the Metaphor of Wine 66

2. Applying Intertextual Criteria 66

2.1 Terminological Similarities 67

2.1.1 “Wine” (οἶνος) 67

2.1.1.1 Interpreting the Wine of the Personified Wisdom in Prov 9:1–6 67

2.1.1.2 Interpreting Jesus’ Wine in the Context of Prov 9:1–6 75

2.1.2 The Whence of the New Wine: πόθεν (John 2:9) 83

2.2 Thematic Similarities 88

2.2.1 The Messianic Banquet Motif 88

- 2.2.1.1 The Messianic Banquet in the Wisdom Tradition 88
 - 2.2.1.2 The Messianic Banquet in John 2:1–11 99
 - 2.2.2 The Sapiential Aspect of “Hour,” “Glory,” and “Sign” in
John 2:1–11 105
 - 2.3 Historical Plausibility 114
 - 2.3.1 Qumran Writings 114
 - 2.3.2 Old Testament Apocrypha 116
 - 2.3.3 Philo of Alexandria 118
 - 2.3.4 Targumim 120
 - 2.3.5 Rabbinic Writings 122
 - 2.4 The History of Interpretation 123
 - 2.5 Cohesion and Creativity – Summary 127
- III. The Metaphor of Water 133
 - 1. Status quaestionis of the Sapiential Background for the Metaphor of Water 133
 - 2. Applying Intertextual Criteria 135
 - 2.1 Terminological Similarities 135
 - 2.1.1 “Living Water” (ὕδωρ ζῶν) in John 4:6–15 136
 - 2.1.1.1 Interpreting “living water” in the Context of Prov 3:14; 18:4
and Sir 15:3 137
 - 2.1.1.2 Interpreting “living water” in the Context of Prov 5:15–18.. 151
 - 2.1.1.3 The Source of “living water”: πόθεν (John 4:11–12) 158
 - 2.1.2 “Rivers of living water” (ποταμοὶ ὕδατος ζῶντος) in
John 7:37–39 162
 - 2.1.2.1 Christological Interpretation in the Context of Sir 24:23–29 165
 - 2.1.2.2 Anthropological Interpretation in the Context of Prov 4:23;
5:15–16 and 18:4 170
 - 2.1.2.3 Christological-Anthropological Interpretation in the Context of Sir 24:30–34 172
 - 2.1.2.4 Pneumatological Meaning of Water in the Context of Prov 1:23; Sir 39:6, and Wis 7:22–23 175
 - 2.1.2.5 The Circumstances of Jesus’ Utterance in John 7:37 –
Interpretation in the Context of Prov 1:20–21; 8:1–2; 9:3,
and Sir 24:2 180
 - 2.1.3 Messianic Feast Motif (John 4:13–15; 7:37–39) 189
 - 2.2 Thematic Similarities 195
 - 2.2.1 Identifying Who Jesus Is 196
 - 2.2.1.1 Giver of “living water” (John 4:10; 7:37) 196
 - 2.2.1.2 Jesus’ ἐγὼ ἐμὶ (John 4:26) 198

2.2.2	Eternal Life as a Result of Drinking Jesus' Water (John 4:14)	203
2.2.3	Event Participants (John 4:39–42 and 7:40–44)	205
2.3	Historical Plausibility	211
2.3.1	Qumran Writings	211
2.3.2	Old Testament Apocrypha	213
2.3.2.1	The Odes of Solomon	214
2.3.2.2	The Ethiopic Book of Enoch	216
2.3.2.3	The Fourth Book of Ezra	219
2.3.3	Philo of Alexandria	221
2.3.4	Targumim	223
2.3.5	Rabbinic Writings	225
2.4	The History of Interpretation	227
2.5	Cohesion and Creativity – Summary	229
IV.	The Metaphor of Bread	235
1.	Status quaestionis of the Sapiential Background for the Metaphor of Bread	235
2.	Applying Intertextual Criteria	236
2.1	Terminological Similarities	237
2.1.1	“Bread from heaven” (ἄρτος ἐκ τοῦ οὐρανοῦ) – Comparative Interpretation in the Context of Ps 78[77]:24–25 and Wis 16:20	237
2.1.2	The Messianic Banquet Motif	248
2.2	Thematic Similarities	256
2.2.1	Properties of the Bread from Heaven	256
2.2.1.1	The Nature of the True Bread (John 6:32)	256
2.2.1.2	The Giver of the Bread from Heaven (John 6:27, 32, 51) ...	262
2.2.1.3	The Provenance of the Bread from Heaven (John 6:29, 33, 39, 41, 44, 50, 51, 57, 58)	270
2.2.1.4	Eternal Life as the Effect of Eating the Bread from Heaven (John 6:27, 40, 47, 54, 68)	274
2.2.1.5	Jesus' ἐγὼ εἰμί (John 6:35, 41, 48, 51)	280
2.2.2	Event Participants	281
2.2.2.1	The Motif of Looking for Jesus (John 6:24, 26)	281
2.2.2.2	The Motif of Receiving and Rejecting Jesus (John 6:60–71) ..	284
2.3	Historical Plausibility	287
2.3.1	Qumran Writings	288
2.3.2	Old Testament Apocrypha	288
2.3.2.1	The Tale of Joseph and Aseneth	288
2.3.2.2	Sibylline Oracles	290

- 2.3.2.3 Syriac Apocalypse of Baruch 291
 - 2.3.2.4 Odes of Solomon 292
 - 2.3.3 Philo of Alexandria 292
 - 2.3.4 Targumim 294
 - 2.3.5 Rabbinic Writings 296
 - 2.4 The History of Interpretation..... 297
 - 2.5 Cohesion and Creativity – Summary..... 300
- V. Conclusions 307
 - 1. Achieving the Purpose versus the Topic of Research 307
 - 2. Conclusions in Relation to the Criteria Applied 308
 - 2.1 Availability..... 309
 - 2.2 Terminological Similarities 309
 - 2.3 Thematic Similarities 312
 - 2.4 Recurrence..... 316
 - 2.5 Historical Plausibility 318
 - 2.6 History of Interpretation 320
 - 2.7 Cohesion and Creativity..... 320
 - 3. The Metaphorical Nature of Wine, Water and Bread in the Johannine Gospel 321
 - 4. Prospects for Further Research..... 324
- List of Abbreviations 327
- Bibliography..... 337
- Index 381