

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface Richard Mills	vii
Introduction: Football as a Social and Political Phenomenon in the Balkans—Local Specificity Teodor Borisov, Maroš Melichárek, and Dariusz Wojtaszyn	1
Between Collaboration and Tension: Balkan Football Teams in the Mitropa Cup Dariusz Wojtaszyn and Lorenzo Venuti	7
A Haven from the War: Slovenian Football During Occupation (1941–1945) Tin Mudražija	29
The People's Republic of Bulgaria and Its Football through the Eyes of the West Teodor Borisov	55

Football Culture and Public Memory: The Drone and Banner Incident and Transnational Memory Debates in the Balkans Tea Sindbæk Andersen	75
The Whole Neighborhood Was Breathing Steaua: The Urban Dynamics of Bucharest's Fan Entourages Andrei Mihail	95
Jel' igraju naši? Football, Identity, and Nationalism in Bosnia and Herzegovina Valentino Grbavac	117
Orbán Goes to the Balkans: How Does the Support of Hungarian Government Affect Club Football in Neighboring Countries? Zsolt Havran	141
North Macedonia Goes to Euro 2020: Football and the Ethnic "Other" on Social Media Kristijan Fidanovski and Vlora Rechica	179
Conclusion Teodor Borisov, Maroš Melichárek, and Dariusz Wojtaszyn	203
Notes on Contributors	209
Index	211