

Contents

Jussara Abraçado, Carlos Alexandre Gonçalves

Presentation — 1

Augusto Soares da Silva

Grammar in the mind and in the society: Evidence from European and Brazilian pluricentric Portuguese — 7

Roberval Teixeira e Silva, Maria João Marçalo, Maria Célia Lima-Hernandes

Lexicon pluricentrality and pluricircularity in Portuguese language varieties — 35

Jussara Abraçado

Middle voice in Brazilian Portuguese from the theoretical perspective of Cognitive Grammar — 65

Carlos Alexandre Gonçalves

A functional/cognitive approach to hápx and quasi-hápx in Brazilian Portuguese suffixation — 93

Vítor de Moura Vivas, Diogo Pinheiro

Non-concatenative verbal inflection in Brazilian Portuguese: A construction grammar approach — 115

Nilza Barrozo Días

Non-prototypic contrastive constructions in varieties of Portuguese — 157

Sávio André de Souza Cavalcante

Intercalated temporal clauses in formal written Brazilian Portuguese — 175

Maria Angélica Furtado da Cunha

Grammatical variants of the ditransitive construction in Brazilian Portuguese — 201

VIII — Contents

Sebastião Carlos Leite Gonçalves, Aline Gomes Garcia

Discourse marker with the verb saber ('to know') closing discourse topic:
Analyzing oral narratives in brazilian Portuguese — 223

Maria Helena de Moura Neves

Analysis of conversation and its many knots — 251