

---

Contents

Introduction

Introduction . . . . . 3
Gerlind Wisskirchen

Factors Influencing the Future Job Market

Historic Turning Point in the Labor Market in Germany—How Demographic Change Slows Down Growth . . . . . 13
Thomas Obst

Skills Shortage—Myth or Reality? . . . . . 23
Christian Lay and Christian Niebling

When Digital Meets Demographic Change—What Opportunities and Risks Does Digital Transformation Pose in a Shrinking and Aging Workforce? . . . . . 29
Oliver Stettes

Artificial Intelligence as a Key Technology of the 21st Century—Why a Disruption of the Labor Market is Imminent . . . . . 35
Inka Knappertsbusch

Workplace

Working from Home: Perspectives, Challenges, Solutions . . . . . 45
Werner Widuckel and Lutz Bellmann

Work is No Longer a Place to Go—How the Replacement of the Office as a Workplace Creates Opportunities for the Development of Our Society and Cities . . . . . 53
Sandra Breuer and Laura Kienbaum

Third Places . . . . . 61
Sina Niehues

Coworking Space as a Third Workplace . . . . . 69
Ann-Sophie Amler

Working Where Others Vacation—“Workation” a Model with a Future? . . . . .	77
Friedrun Domke
Work from Anywhere—The Free Choice of Workplace . . . . .	85
Inka Knappertsbusch and Hannah Stute
Working Time
Fields of Action for Current and Future Working Time Design. . . . .	95
Ufuk Altun and Veit Hartmann
The Four-Day Week . . . . .	103
Jan Bühren, Nina Meier-Hahasvili, Carsten Meier and Gregor Kalchthaler
Elective Working Time: The Basis for an Employee-Oriented Working Hours Design . . . . .	111
Andreas Hoff
Free Space for Employees—Planning Security for Employers . . . . .	119
Georg Pepping and Tanja Werner
Trust Vacation—“Unlimited” Vacation as Part of an Innovative Working World . . . . .	127
Daniela Rindone
Free Time Management with the workSPACE Concept—A Model for More Personal Freedom and Efficiency in the Home Office, Remote and In-Person . . . . .	135
Julia Schmidbauer, Karsten Lohmeyer and Stephan Goldmann
Work Organization
Flexible Workforce: The Role of Freelancers in the Workforce of the Future. . . . .	145
Daniel Barke
Platform Work: Revolution of the Labor Market? . . . . .	153
Kira Falter and Arne Schmieke
Disruptive Change in Organizational Design—Introduction of Flexible Organizational Structures at T-Systems International GmbH. . . . .	163
Jan Krellner and Raihan Kleinmann
Agile Working . . . . .	171
Jonas Kannen
Digital Connectivity in the Context of New Work . . . . .	179
Sarah Genner

The Future of Corporate Co-Determination . . . . .	187
Nele Urban and Benjamin Münnich
Digital Access Right of the Trade Union to the Company . . . . .	195
Volker Stück
 Teamwork and Leadership
From Functional Excellence to Transactional Excellence—The Organization as a Network of High-Performance Teams . . . . .	205
Verena Schaad and Marco Böhmer
Cross-Functional Expert Teams—How Mixed Ad-Hoc Teams Master Projects and Product Development in the Digital Work Environment . . . . .	213
Daniel Halft
The Role of Leaders in Hybrid Work—All New or Old Hat? . . . . .	219
Oliver Herrmann
Agile Leadership Models as the Basis for the Work Organization of the Future . . . . .	227
Heiko Schröder and Juliane Pilster
Shared Leadership . . . . .	235
Arnd Albrecht
Job Sharing in Management—Experiences and Suggestions for Practice. . . . .	245
Stephanie Dickes and Eva Grenz
 Work Equipment and Further Education
Design Thinking Can Change the (Working) World—A Discussion of the Advantages, Challenges and Solutions of Applying Design Thinking on the Way to New Work . . . . .	255
Amelie Kollhoff
Requirements for the Workplace of the Future—Effective Collaboration and Innovation Through Activity Based Working . . . . .	263
Leonie Kristina Stankewitz
The Home Office: Achieving Productivity, Well-Being and Ergonomics. .	271
Lisa Rosa Bräutigam
New Work Requires New Learning. . . . .	279
Joachim Giese and Claudia Suhr

Continuous Learning—The Importance for Companies and the Approaches of Continuous Learning in an Ever Faster Changing Working World . . . . .	285
Simone Dogu
Digital Learning . . . . .	293
Wibke Matthes
Employer Branding, Employee Benefits and New Pay
Employer Branding in the Labor Market of the Future—What Must Companies Offer Workers? . . . . .	303
Susanne Wißfeld
Corporate Culture—How the Culture of a Company determines their success or failure . . . . .	311
Arkadiusz Grontzki
Organizational Recovery—How Organizations Promote the Recovery of Their Employees . . . . .	319
Laura von Gilsa
Implementing Physical Activity in the Workplace. . . . .	327
Sara Scheltat
With New Pay towards a Transparent, Fair and Participatory Salary Model—An Example from the Multi-Brand Company Celebrate Company . . . . .	335
Steffen Behn
The Salary Guild: An Attempt at a Modern Salary Process for the Agile Company . . . . .	345
Damla Nalbant
Company Participation—A Virtual Employee Participation Program (VSOP) Without Real Participation Rights as an Investment in Employees . . . . .	353
Friederike Fritzsche
Sustainability, Social Responsibility and Diversity
Sustainability—Gamechanger for HR Work . . . . .	363
Rupert Felder
From Self to Sustainability—How Companies Can Succeed in Encouraging the Intrinsic Motivation of Their Employees to More Sustainable Action. . . . .	371
Sophie E. Bochtler

Strategic CSR Project Management in the Company . . . . .	381
Paula Wernecke and Muskaandeeep Multani
ESG Components in Variable Compensation. . . . . .	389
Laura Matarrelli
Innovative Approach to Skills Shortage—With Solutions from Sustainable HR Management . . . . .	397
Dina Barbian and Kerstin Knabenbauer
New Work and Generations . . . . .	407
Kira Marie Cremer
New Work and Family—How Companies in the New World of Work Benefit from a New Family-Friendliness . . . . .	415
Gabriel Rath
The Future of Talent Management—How Women Make Careers Through Networks . . . . .	421
Katharina Schleeberger and Katharina Klinge	