

Contents

Greeting
Claudia Roth	VIII
Preface
Gilbert Lupfer	IX
Preface
Hermann Parzinger	XI
Much Longer than a Centenary
Introductory Thoughts on the History and Historiography of Restitution Claims
Larissa Förster	1
 ▲ The Long Durée of Claims and the Longanimity of Claimants Protesting Dispossession since the Late Nineteenth Century
Introduction
Aura Lisette Reyes Gavilán	23
An Early Restitution Request from Oba Akenzua II of Benin
Looted Art and Replicas in Nigeria in the Twentieth Century
Audrey Peraldi	27
Archaeology in the Neocolonial Era
Why Were Early Calls for the Return of Cultural Objects to Peru and Colombia Ignored?
Pierre Losson	40
Wampum Belts and Potlatch Treasures
North American Repatriation Cases Preceding NAGPRA
Rainer Hatoum	50
Artists' Feathers Serving the Conservation In Situ of Archaeological Remains
Timeless Proponents of Modern Debates
Odile Boubakeur	63
 ▲ Restitutions before the International Restitution Debate Strategies of Claimants and Agendas of Respondents, 1910s–1970
Introduction
Jan Hüsgen	69

The Political Significance of Elephant War Horns in Kpando Creation, Confiscation, and Restitution, 1870–1916 Stefanie Michels	74
The Return of the Mafue Stone in the 1920s and the Struggle of Its Collector Hans Schomburgk for His Reputation Lars Müller	85
Building a Cultural Legacy and a National Memory The Repatriation of the “Bascom” Bronzes Amanda H. Hellman	98
Archives and the Decolonization Process in Senegal, 1958–1960 Fabienne Chamelot	107
Repatriation without Ethics Apathy and Isolationism in the Return of Colonial Collections from UK Museums, 1945–1970 Claire Wintle	116
Claims to the Crac des Chevaliers during the French Mandate and Syrian Independence Isabella D. Archer	125

▲ Ancestors, National Heroes, World Heritage

Human and Hominin Remains in Repatriation Politics

Introduction Sarah Fründt	131
Born of Spiritual Obligation Australian First Nations and the Repatriation of the Ancestral Dead Paul Turnbull	137
The Making of National Relics The Return of a Throne and a Skull in Colonial Sri Lanka Nira Wickramasinghe	148
Stirring Up a Hornet’s Nest or Letting Sleeping Dogs Lie? Historical Narratives of the Whereabouts of Human Remains from Iringa, Tanzania Jan Kuever	159

▲ Spotlights

After 1970

Introduction Jan Hüsgen	167
---	-----

Africa and the Restitution of Its Heritage Resources
Why Now?
George Okello Abungu 169

Decolonizing Negotiation for the Restitution of Congolese Heritage Acquired during Belgian Colonization
Gracia Lwanzo Kasongo 178

The “Gomen Affair”
Protesting Against the Trafficking of Kanak Objects
Marion Bertin 183

In Pursuit of Pono
Seeking Justice through the Return of Ancestral Hawaiian Remains and
Their Belongings from the Collection of Eduard Arning
Noelle M. K. Y. Kahanu 186

Contributors 195

Image Credits 200