

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Abbreviations and List of Tables	XI
1. Introduction: Approaching Late Period Enslavement	1
1.1 Introduction	1
1.2 Objectives of the work	2
1.3 Historical overview (800–330 BC)	3
1.4 The open corpus of textual sources	4
1.4.1 References to textual sources	5
1.5 Methods: philology, economy, and sociology	6
1.6 Outline	6
2. Languages and Terminology	9
2.1 Introduction: the languages of Late Period Egypt	9
2.2 Demotic Egyptian	9
2.2.1 bꜣk	10
2.2.2 nmḥ	17
2.2.3 ir bꜣk and ir nmḥ	18
2.2.4 hl	19
2.3 Hieroglyphs	20
2.3.1 ḥm	20
2.4 Abnormal Hieratic	21
2.4.1 ḳḏwḏ n mḥ and rmṯ n mḥ	21
2.5 Aramaic	22
2.5.1 ʿbd	23
2.5.2 ʾmh	25
2.5.3 ʿlym	25
2.5.4 grd	26
2.5.5 Undefined terms	27
2.6 Terminology: summary	28
3. Sale, Leasing, and Ownership	29
3.1 Introduction: buying, owning, and selling property in Late Period Egypt	29
3.1.1 Sale, property, ownership, and slavery studies	30
3.2 Sale in the Egyptian textual tradition	30
3.2.1 Abnormal Hieratic sale formulae	32
3.2.2 Demotic sale formulae	33
3.2.3 Demotic and Abnormal Hieratic sales	34
3.2.4 Buying and selling people in the Egyptian textual record	36
3.2.5 Documents styled as sales	40
3.3 Sale in the Aramaic textual record	42
3.3.1 Aramaic sales	42
3.3.2 Buying and selling people in the Aramaic textual record	44
3.4 Leases	44
3.4.1 Late Period leases	45

3.4.2 Leasing of persons	46
3.4.3 ‘Forever’	48
3.5 Ownership and possession	50
3.5.1 Defining possession and ownership in Late Period Egypt	51
3.5.2 ‘... And obligations’	52
3.6 Conclusions	53
4. Pricing, Labour, and the Price of Labour	55
4.1 Introduction: prices, wages, and the commodification of labour	55
4.2 Labour as a commodity	55
4.2.1 Skilled labour, labour supply, and labour availability	57
4.3 Prices, systems of exchange, and markets	58
4.3.1 Egyptian	59
4.3.2 Aramaic	60
4.4 Markets, silver, and redistribution	60
4.5 Late Period commodity prices	61
4.5.1 Land and cattle	62
4.5.2 The cost of marriage and dowry lists	66
4.5.3 Other commodities	70
4.5.4 Penalties	71
4.5.5 Commodity prices: a summary	72
4.6 The price of labour	73
4.6.1 Wages	73
4.6.2 Imported labour	77
4.6.3 The cost of leased labour	78
4.7 The price of enslaved persons	79
4.7.1 Supply of slave labour in the Late Period	79
4.7.2 Prices before, during, and after the Late Period	80
4.7.3 Comparative prices of enslaved persons in the eastern Mediterranean	82
4.7.4 The price of supporting enslaved persons	83
4.8 Conclusions: the price and cost of enslaved persons as commodities	84
5. Identity, Personhood, and Social Death	87
5.1 Introduction: onomastics, defining enslavement, and characterising forced labour	87
5.2 Onomastics and epithets	87
5.2.1 Renaming of enslaved persons	88
5.2.2 Linguistic origins of names	89
5.2.3 Filiation, the absence of filiation, and onomastic markers of enslavement	91
5.3 Assessing ‘social death’ in the Late Period	93
5.3.1 Renaming and absence of filiation	94
5.3.2 Branding as social alienation	94
5.4 Entry, exit, and extraction: characterising enslavement in Late Period Egypt	95
5.4.1 Entry into enslaved status	96
5.4.2 Exit from enslaved status	101
5.4.3 Labour extraction	103
5.5 Conclusions: between social death and personhood	104

6. Conclusions: Enslaved Persons and Enslavement in Late Period Egypt	107
6.1 Slaves, labourers, economic tools, and the role of protection	107
6.2 Summary of findings	108
6.2.1 ‘Slavery’ in modern legal taxonomy	108
6.2.2 Personal transactions, patronage, and protection	110
6.2.3 Enslaved persons as economic tools and stores of wealth	111
6.2.4 Geographic and social origins	112
6.3 Implications and future directions	112
 Appendix 1: Textual Sources	115
 Appendix 2: Names of Enslaved Persons	121
Names in Egyptian sources	121
Names in Aramaic sources	121
 Appendix 3: Texts in the Corpus	123
Concordance	123
A note on translation	124
AH1. Sale of a ‘man of the north’	124
AH2. Sale of a ‘man of the north’	125
AH3. Quitclaim involving a ‘man of the north’	125
AH4. Sale or lease of a ‘man of the north’	126
AH5. Sale of a ‘Gazan of the north’	127
D1. Self-sale as slave	128
D2. Self-sale or acknowledgement as slave	128
D3. Transfer of ownership	129
D4. Acknowledgement of ownership	130
D5. Self-sale as a slave	130
D6. Negotiation of food provisions between an enslaved man and owner	131
D7. Self-sale as son	132
D8. Sale of a slave	132
D9. Re-sale of slave	133
D10. Sale and cession of two slaves	134
A1. Transfer of slaves	135
A2. Fragmentary note of marked slaves	135
A3. Escaped slaves	135
A4. Request for release of slaves	136
A5. Acquisition and marking of enslaved persons	137
A6. Inheritance division	138
A7. Marriage contract of an enslaved woman to an unenslaved man	139
A8. Manumission of an enslaved woman and her daughter	140
A9. Adoption of an ‘lym	141
A10. Fragmentary conveyance of multiple slaves	142
A11. Possible distraint of slave	142
A12. Court record involving slaves	143
A13. Complaint regarding three slaves	144

A14. Complaint regarding illegal enslavement _____ 144

A15. Court record regarding ‘bdn’ and valuables _____ 145

A16. Dispute over ‘bdn’ _____ 146

A17. Witness list with ‘sons of the house’ _____ 146

A18. Letter regarding a leased? female slave _____ 147

H1. Abydos Stela of Sheshonq _____ 147

H2. Apanage Stela of Iuwelot _____ 148

Bibliography _____ 149

Index _____ 173

Subjects _____ 173

Egyptian (Demotic, Abnormal Hieratic, and Hieroglyphs) _____ 175

Aramaic _____ 176