

Contents

José Carlos Díaz Zanelli & Marco Ramírez Rojas

Introduction — 1

Forms of Latinoamericanism: Discipline, Genres, and Canon

Graciela Montaldo

Latin Americanism: A Discipline for the World Stage — 13

Juan E De Castro

José Carlos Mariátegui: Eurocentrism, Indigeneity, the Avant-Garde, and World Literature — 33

Aníbal González

Latin American Science Fiction and the Art of Anachronism: An “Other” Science fiction is Possible — 53

Marco Ramírez Rojas

Cesar Vallejo’s Ethical Cosmopolitanism: España, aparta de mí este caliz . . . At The Crossroads of Marx and The Bible — 67

Cosmopolitan Indigeneities: Indigenismos and Indigenous Literatures in the Globe

Ekta Kandhway & Ignacio López-Calvo

Indigenous Literature: Understandings of Nature Through Andean and Santali Oral Folktales — 93

José Carlos Díaz Zanelli

Re-Mapping Indigenous Literatures: Nationhood, Subaltern Cosmopolitanism, and Subjectivity — 111

VI — Contents

Andrés Obando

Forging the Andes: Unearthing the Pastoral Origins of the Peruvian Highlands — 129

Dislocations and Relocations in the Latin American Novel

Zoya Khan

Between the Body as Limits and the Limits of the Body: Embodied Cosmopolitanism in Carmen Boullosas' La novela perfecta and Giovanna Rivero's "El hombre de la pierna" — 149

Luis Medina Cordova

From Poso Wells to The Country of the Blind: Gabriela Alemán's Local World Literature — 171

Reassembled Networks: Intellectual Circulations and Formations

Mariana Hernández y Rojas

El Premio Herralde de Novela y la literatura mexicana del siglo XXI: circuitos, mercado e internacionalización — 191

Iuri Bauler Pereira

Literary Networks, Counterculture and Cosmopolitanism in Miguel Grinberg — 209

Damian Deamici

Desire for the Underworld: The Neo-avant-garde and Cosmopolitanism in Néstor Sánchez's Siberia blues (1967) — 235

Index — 255