

---

Contents

- 1 The Communities of the Pre-modern Era . . . . .1
  - 1.1 Anthropology of the Social . . . . .2
  - 1.2 Brief Genealogy of Pre-modern Communitarization . . . . .6
  - 1.3 Communicative and Symbolic Constructions of Pre-modern Community . . . . .10
  - 1.4 Institutionalized Religion as a Pre-modern Mode of Communalization . . . . .17

- 2 The Onset of Modernization . . . . .25
  - 2.1 Crisis of the Pre-modern Symbolic Universe . . . . .27
  - 2.2 Age Without God: Nietzsche’s Solitary Nihilism . . . . .32
  - 2.3 Nietzsche’s Lonely Prophecies of Modernity . . . . .40

- 3 Disorientation and Abandonment: Early Modernity . . . . .49
  - 3.1 Community in Crisis: The Sociologies of Early Modernity . . . . .55
  - 3.2 Modernization and Discourses of Alienation . . . . .61
  - 3.3 Tradition, Law, Ideology: Ways Out of Early Modern Loneliness? . . . . .74

- 4 Lonely Time Diagnoses of the Industrial High Modernity . . . . .89
  - 4.1 The Discovery of High Modern Lonelinesses: Riesman
and Oberndörfer . . . . .93
  - 4.2 Disoriented America: Steinbeck and Mak . . . . .103
  - 4.3 The (Sub-)Urban (In)visible Lonelinesses: Sennett and Slater. . . . .109
  - 4.4 Psychologies of Loneliness . . . . .121

---

|          |                                                                                       |     |
|----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 5 | The Lonelinesses of Late Modernity                                             | 131 |
| 5.1      | Acceleration and Movement: Rosa and Augé                                              | 138 |
| 5.2      | Crisis of Certainties: Hobsbawm and Bauman                                            | 147 |
| 5.3      | Danger and Risk: Luhmann, Beck and Bonß                                               | 151 |
| 5.4      | Identities and Singularities: Niethammer, Giddensand Reckwitz                     | 160 |
| 5.5      | The Burden of Modernity and the Lonelinessesof the Losers of Modernization        | 168 |
| 6 | Life in the Network Society and the Escalationof Late-Modern Lonelinesses | 177 |
| 6.1      | The Promises and Disappointments of the InterconnectedSociety                     | 183 |
| 6.2      | The Isolating Logics of the Digital                                                   | 187 |
| 6.3      | The Generation of the Lonely                                                          | 192 |
| 6.4      | Being Alone and Living Alone as a Time-out from Loneliness                            | 198 |
| 7 | Has Postmodernity Already Begun?                                               | 205 |
|          | References                                                                     | 211 |