

Table of Contents

Foreword	V
Abbreviations	XI
1. Introduction: The Goal and Thesis of the Study	1
Excursus: Temples and Shrines during the Iron Age I until the Hellenistic Period.....	4
1.1. A Caveat : The Character of the Sources.....	15
1.2. Tracing YHWH's Diversity: The Main Problems.....	17
1.3. Iconism versus Aniconism? How to Represent the Divine	19
2. YHWH's Origin(s) and Diachronic Development in Actual Scholarship.....	23
2.1. In Search of a Single Point of Departure – The Origin of YHWH and His Original Theological Profile: The Actual Debate	23
2.1.1. YHWH's Possible Territorial or Social Affiliations	23
2.1.2. YHWH and the Other Gods	27
2.1.2.1. YHWH, El and Baal	27
2.1.2.2. YHWH and the Sun God	30
2.1.2.3. YHWH, Baal-shamem and Bethel	32
2.1.3. Discussion	35
2.2. In Search of YHWH's Diachronic Biography: The Actual Debate	37
2.2.1. Solarization and Chthonization	37
2.2.2. Lunarization	42
2.2.3. Uranization and Sapientialization	47
2.2.4. Return to the Mountains: YHWH on Mount Gerizim and Zion	49
2.2.5. Religious Nostalgia: YHWH in Egypt	51
3. YHWH's Divine Names, Epithets and Attributes in the Texts	55
3.1. In the Old Testament.....	55
3.2. In Epigraphy	61
3.2.1. The North and Assyria	62
3.2.2. The South and Babylonia	67
3.2.2.1. YHWH's Light, Righteousness and Judgment in the Upper World	68

3.2.2.2. YHWH's Light and Protection in the Grave	71
3.2.2.3. YHWH as a Healer	74
3.2.2.4. YHWH Zebaoth, the City God of Jerusalem and Judah's Mountains	75
3.2.2.5. YHWH's Oath Surveillance	77
3.2.2.6. YHWH's Protection of Foreign Rulers	78
3.2.3. Egypt	79
 4. The Iconographic Repertoire of Levantine Deities	85
4.1. Anthropomorphic Images.....	86
4.2. Zoomorphic Images	89
4.3. Symbols	94
4.4. Standing Stones/Mazzeboth	95
4.5. Combinations.....	97
4.6. Hybrid Creatures and Cherub-Thrones.....	97
 5. YHWH's Numerous Names, Epithets and Possible Polyiconography	99
5.1. Picturing YHWH's Biblical Epithets and Attributes?.....	100
5.2. The Name YHWH as Point of Departure for Possible YHWH-Iconographies?	109
5.2.1. The Northern and Southern Winds in Palestine and Their Gods	110
5.2.2. YHWH as the God of the Northern and Southern Winds	113
5.3. A Mosaic of Possible Local Manifestations of YHWH	115
5.3.1. Transjordan: Ataroth and Nebo in the First Half of the 9th cent. BCE – the Omride YHWH in the Periphery of the Kingdom of Israel	117
5.3.2. Cisjordan North	122
5.3.2.1. Jezreel and Beth Shean Valley: Megiddo and Tel Rehov	122
5.3.2.2. The Samaritan Highlands: Mount Ebal, Bull Site, Samaria, Tell el-Far'ah North/Tirzah	128
5.3.2.3. The Hule Valley: Dan	130
5.3.2.4. Synthesis	133
5.3.3. Cisjordan South	135
5.3.3.1. Jerusalem and Tel Moza	135
5.3.3.2. The Shephelah: Hirbet Qeiyafa and Lachish	138
5.3.3.3. The Negev: Arad	145
5.3.3.4. Synthesis	148
 6. Conclusion: Polyahwism and Polyiconography	153
 7. Outlook.....	163

Bibliography 167

Index..... 189