

Table of Contents

Introduction	9
I. Initial Thoughts on the Nexus between Poetry and Politics	11
Enrico Serventi Longhi
II. An Antipasto for What Is to Come	21
Roger Griffin
Chapter One The Double Helix of Cultural DNA: Aestheticizing Politics and Politicizing Aesthetics	33
Roger Griffin
Chapter Two Rebellious Poetry in Post-Risorgimento Italy (1870–1900)	59
Elena Papadia
Chapter Three Alfredo Oriani and the Challenges of the Human Body from Lay Asceticism to Personal Free Time (1871–1909)	81
Dino Mengozzi
Chapter Four ‘Nauseato di vecchi muri’: Boccioni’s Poem in Parolibero Style Opening a Breach in the Politico-Aesthetic Edifice	101
Larissa Maria Müller
Chapter Five Mediterranean Imaginaries in the Age of Modernism	123
Claudio Fogu
Chapter Six Clepsydra Mentitur: The Challenge of Time in D’Annunzio’s Aesthetics and Politics	143
Enrico Serventi Longhi

Chapter Seven	The Poetry and Politics of Futurism's Antimodern Modernism	165
	Lorenzo Benadusi
Chapter Eight	A Prophecy Fulfilled? The Danteum Project between Poetry, Architecture, and Politics	185
	Aristotle Kallis
Chapter Nine	Fascist is the writer who...'. The Narrative of Power at the Intersection of Literature and Politics in the Antologia degli scrittori fascisti ...	211
	Carlo Leo
Chapter Ten	The Sweet Vitality of Dancing Bodies: Classical Embodiment, Modernist Poetics, and Fascist Visions in Sophocles' Trachiniae at Syracuse in 1933	239
	Eleftheria Ioannidou
Afterthoughts	Re-Visiting Relationships between Aesthetics and Politics: A Manifesto of Future Interdisciplinary Research	265
	Enrico Serventi Longhi
Bibliography		277
Short Biographies of Contributors		313
Name Index		317
Thematic Index		331