

Table of Contents

Abbreviations — VII

Faustino Fabbianelli

Introduction — 1

Beatrice Centi

Knowledge and Its Foundation: The “philosophy of pure reason” and Its System in Kant — 11

Federico Ferraguto

Critique and Metaphysics in K. L. Reinhold’s Jena Thought — 49

Gaetano Rametta

The Subject without Contradiction: Being and Becoming in Fichte — 69

Marco Ivaldo

Critical Thinking and Ontology in the Doctrine of Science — 93

Giannino Di Tommaso

System and Freedom in Young Schelling — 109

Ives Radrizzani

The Relation between Transcendental Philosophy and Philosophy of Nature. The Controversy between Fichte and Schelling — 123

Luca Fonnesu

Kant and Hegel on the Status of Glauben — 139

Juliana Ferraci Martone

“Dos moi pou sto”: Belief as a New Foundation of Knowledge in F. H. Jacobi — 159

Laura Anna Macor

“Sapere aude”. Schiller’s Letters to Prince von Augustenburg and Kant’s Answer to the Question: What Is Enlightenment? — 175

VI — Table of Contents

Antonio Carrano

From Kant to Humboldt: A ‘Reform’ of Humanity’s Way of Thinking and Spiritual Education — 197

Carla De Pascale

Schopenhauer and German Idealism — 213

Matteo Vincenzo d’Alfonso

The Primacy of the Practical from Fichte to Schopenhauer — 235

Faustino Fabbianelli

Content and Object of Critical Cognition: Jakob Friedrich Fries’ Evaluation of Reinhold’s and Fichte’s Philosophy — 249

Pierluigi Valenza

At the Limits of Experience: A Dialogue on Philosophy and Religion between Eschenmayer and Fries — 267

Omar Brino

Critical Reason and “unübertragbare” Historicity: Schleiermacher and the Post-Kantian Philosophical Context — 285

Index of persons — 297