

Contents

Acknowledgments — V

List of Figures — XI

List of Tables — XVII

Chapter 1

Introduction — 1

Ideology and propaganda — 4

Radicalism and Modernism — 7

Descriptive and narrative picturebooks — 11

Methods — 15

Correlating the GDR's political history and its architecture, traffic, and design of childhood — 17

Overview of topics in this book — 22

Chapter 2

Artistic Styles — 27

Socialist Realism — 28

Graphic Modernism and Graphic Expressionism — 32

Pop Art and Photorealism — 39

Aesthetic education — 43

Conclusions — 47

Chapter 3

Ruins, Rubble, Reconstruction — 49

Pictures of ruins and reconstruction — 50

Reconstructing the village — 57

From the sandpit to the reconstruction site — 63

Conclusions — 66

Chapter 4

Images of the Socialist City: The Stalinallee and Plattenbau — 67

New construction and the housing shortage — 69

The Stalinallee as a showcase project — 71

Prefabricated buildings and urban development — 73

Looking back and looking forward — 80

Conclusions — 80

Chapter 5

Mid-Century Modern Architecture in East Berlin: The World Time Clock, TV Tower, and Palace of the Republic — 83

The World Time Clock at the Alexanderplatz — 85

The TV tower — 89

Palace of the Republic — 91

Conclusions — 93

Chapter 6

Shaping the Image of Moscow — 95

Young Pioneers visit Moscow — 97

Generals are children's friends — 103

Getting a putyovka — 108

Conclusions — 111

Chapter 7

Becoming a Socialist Consumer: Konsum, HO, and the House of the Child — 113

Consumption in the big city and the relations between town and country — 115

Production and distribution of food — 121

Everyday life and consumption — 125

The House of the Child — 129

Conclusions — 131

Chapter 8

Visual Culture of Traffic — 133

Traffic problems in the reconstruction era — 137

Urban traffic and traffic education — 142

Urban planning and utopian traffic — 146

Conclusions — 150

Chapter 9

The Design of the Socialist Childhood: Kindergartens, Playgrounds, and Pioneer Institutions — 152

Kindergartens — 153

Playgrounds — 161

Pioneer institutions — 164

Conclusions — 168

Chapter 10

How Cute! Young Pioneer Design and Culture — 170

- The Pioneer neckerchief and uniform — 170
- The cute Pioneer and socialist kitsch — 177
- Pioneers photographed — 183
- Photographic portraits of Pioneers — 190
- Conclusions — 194

Chapter 11

The Cold War for Children: Peace Education and Military Training — 196

- Peace education and the construction of an image of the enemy — 198
- Comradeship and respect — 200
- Fascination with technology — 208
- Conclusions — 212

Chapter 12

Looking Back: Nostalgia and Literary Change — 214

- Nostalgia and anti-nostalgia — 215
- Wall and Flight for Freedom* — 217
- The iconic role of the Trabant — 220
- Exploring literary change — 224
- Conclusions — 228

Bibliography — 231

Index — 245