

Contents

Introduction	VII
Edita Gzoyan
1. The Forcible Child Transfer Clause: Legal Considerations and Implications	1
Edita Gzoyan
2. The Forcible Transfer of Armenian Children During the Armenian Genocide: Ideological Implications and Implementation	29
Regina Galustyan
3. The Turkification of Armenian Children in the Ottoman Empire’s State Orphanages (1915–1918)	67
Narine Margaryan
4. The Armenian Genocide as a Struggle of Identities: The Religious Conversions of Armenian Children in the Ottoman Muslim Household Environment	99
Shushan Khachatryan
5. The Question of Detained Armenian Women and Children in Asia Minor After World War I	131
Raymond Kévorkian
6. Statistics on the Armenian Genocide Orphan Numbers Compiled by the Armenian Patriarchate of Constantinople in 1919–1922	151
Robert Tatoyan
7. “Rescued or Genocided?”—the Transfer and Assimilation of Children During the Armenian Genocide	185
Harutyun Marutyan
Annex 1: Index of Children Brought to the Neutral House	209
Annex 2: “Antoura. The Shelter of a Thousand Tragedies” by Major Stephen Trowbridge	221

Annex 3: Photographs 229

Index 243