

Table of Contents

Introduction VII
Lukas Wiesenhütter

PART I
Omnipotence and Omniscience

1 Ibn Sīnā’s Conception of Divine Omniscience 3
Rahim Acar

2 On God’s Eternal Knowledge and the Problem of the Efficacy of Petitionary Prayers 19
Ebrahim Azadegan

3 Does God Know What Time It Is? 33
Brian Leftow

4 Divine Knowledge in Classical Shī’ī Theology: Divine Knowledge of Particulars and of the Present Time 49
Muhammad Legenhausen

PART II
Justice and Mercy

5 Justice and Mercy as a Paradoxical Task? The Perspectives of Friedrich Schleiermacher and Paul Ricoeur on Evil,
Accountability and the Question of Reconciliation 69
Maureen Junker-Kenny

6 Human Suffering and the Riddle of Divine Goodness:
Answers from the Book of Job 87
Georg Gasser

7 “Theodicy in a Vale of Tears”: Towards an Islamic Theodicy
of Protest 107
Saida Mirsadri

PART III
Divine Simplicity and Divine Action

8 Al-Ghazālī Against al-Falāsifa (the Philosophers) on Divine Simplicity 137
 Mehmet Sait Reçber

9 Divine Simplicity and Divine Action 155
 Thomas Schärtl

10 Divine Perfection and the Reality of God’s Self-Disclosure: Are Mixed Relations Mixed Up? 187
 Alan J. Torrance

11 Mullā Ṣadrā on God’s Simplicity 209
 Reza Akbari

12 Divine Attributes as a Subject of Comparative Theology: Conclusions 221
 Klaus von Stosch

Bibliography 237

Contributors 251