

Contents

Illustrations	vii
Abbreviations	ix
Notes on this Translation	xi
Introduction: "He could not breathe without her"	1
1 "I have become her despot": From Love to Marriage	12
2 "Deprived of incipient motherhood": Riga, London, Paris, 1836–42	38
3 "Home for me is you alone": Dresden 1842–47	70
4 "My knucklehead of a husband": Revolution and Its Aftermath, 1848–50	99
5 "This ridiculous, amorous intrigue": The Jessie Laussot Affair, 1850–51	127
6 "That good, foolish man ...": Exile in Zurich, 1852–54	155
7 "I'm a poor, stupid woman to have let you go ...": Zurich and London, 1854–56	186
8 "Alas, now all our happiness is gone ...": The Wesendonck Scandal, 1857–58	212
9 The Bitter End, 1858–59	246
10 "In love and fidelity, your Emma": Emma Herwegh	272
11 "Neither wife, housekeeper, nor friend": Dresden, Paris, Biebrich, 1860–62	289
12 "That weak, blind man ...": The End of a Marriage, 1863–66	318
References	347
Index	353