

CONTENTS

Preface: Don't give up	xi
Foreword: English is the language of my soul	xv
Introduction: Leave – so that you can come back	xxi
Who is this book for?	xxxii

PART I: THE MUNDANENESS OF MARRIAGE

1 It doesn't matter who you marry	3
Most divorces are unnecessary	4
Your only real partner is yourself	6
Lies, corsets and other passion-killers	8
Addictions, dependencies, cravings...	11
More of the same – the celebrity phenomenon	15
Why everything stays the same when everything is supposed to change	17
Princes turning into frogs – brilliant!	18
Couples, parents, lovers	19
Divorce means separating from your old wounds	20
The new relationship – 'I yearned for life!'	23
Discover your own strength, spark your own passion	24
 2 We always marry for the wrong reasons	 29
Two one-legged people learn to walk	30
The reasons disappear, the partner remains	31
'I love you' contains the word 'I'	32
The iceberg model	33
The child in us lives on	35
The woman wants passion, the child wants protection	38
Our partner hears what we don't say	41
When we marry we want healing	44

3	Your partner only plays a role in your script	47
	We fall in love so that we don't have to love	48
	'You are so weak'	50
	Projection – your partner is what you don't want to be	55
	Mirrors – your partner is what you cannot see	57
	Shadows – your partner is what you don't like	58
	The fallen angel	60
	'I've become just as thoughtless as my husband!'	63
	A wicked mother-in-law can be our closest ally	64
	When the iceberg melts...	66
4	The more in love, the harder the fall	69
	The romantic rush	71
	Sobering up in a power struggle	73
	'Lone wolf' and 'cling-on'	78
	The ice age	81
	'You make me sick'	86
	It never stops – but it does get better	89
5	Lust or no lust – that is the question...	93
	To have sex or to make love?	95
	Perfect images, perfect partners, perfect positions...	97
	The sexual dead-end street	99
	We want everything but feel nothing	100
	Sex as a weapon	102
6	'Battle-axes' and 'wimps'	105
	The wails of wounded women	108
	Dreaming of knights in shining armour	111
	Behind every discontented woman there is a weak man	115
	Female breadwinners, male housewives	117
	Leaders of the hearts of men	119

7	Three's always a crowd	123
	The secret lover as panacea	124
	First the fun, then the guilt	126
	The betrayed person always leaves first	128
	In love triangles, everyone's afraid of intimacy	130
	The marriage caterpillar and the butterfly lover	133
	Independence – worse than dependence	135
8	Separation – resolution is postponed	139
	Separation as opportunity	141
	Breaking free	143
	Finding peace and freedom	145
	Learning to love and let go	147
	PART II: RETURN TO LOVE
9	True love – or the thing about God	153
	The thing about God	155
	The senselessness of victory	157
	We don't have to do anything	160
	God's not an old man with a grey beard	164
	Dying to be reborn	167
10	Honestly, there are lies in your marriage	173
	Sometimes we'd rather die	174
	Lies for love	176
	Endings come before beginnings	177
	Once we let go, healing begins	179
	Why disasters are useful	180
	Truth heals	182
11	The adventure of everyday life	185
	Let go of your feelings	186
	Don't take a lover – say what you are thinking instead	189

The present moment is all there is	192
A life in faith	194
12 Forgive – you can’t change anyone else anyway	199
Resentment makes you ill	201
Forgiving others means freeing yourself	203
Parents are like dumbbells	204
True miracles	207
13 Love and lust	209
Everything is possible	210
The river of love	212
Searching for the secrets of physical love	213
The womb gives birth to all things	215
Beyond orgasm	217
The phantom of passion	219
Forget about sex	220
True physical love comes from the heart	222
Our body is our memory	224
Do it as often as you can	226
14 Children of love	229
Being pregnant with ourselves	230
Childbirth – the start of separation	231
A new baby brings our inadequacies into the world	233
The opposite of ‘good’ is ‘well-meant’	236
Our children need what we find most painful	237
‘I don’t want Daddy – I want love’	238
Power struggles paralyze children	241
Children heal their parents	242
Healing is your true legacy	244
Abortion – a time for grief	246

15 Love is ... work, diligence, discipline and reward	251
Overnight superstars	252
Do your homework – otherwise it does you	254
Love out of a crisis	255
No winners without losers	257
Say ‘yes’!	258
 Afterword: You can make it on your own. but
two’s company	261
Further Reading	265