

Contents

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS	xiii
LIST OF TABLES	xiv
NOTES ON THE AUTHORS	xv
NOTE ON THE TRANSLATION	xvii
ABBREVIATIONS	xviii
GLOSSARY OF FOREIGN TERMS	xxxiv
FOREWORD	xxxvi

A. At War, Abroad and at Home

The Essential Features of German Society in the Second World War

BY JÖRG ECHTERNKAMP

I. 'WAR ON TWO FRONTS'	I
II. A COHERENT WAR SOCIETY?	7
1. The Utopia of a Volksgemeinschaft at Arms	8
2. Propaganda as a Weapon	19
3. Hitler's Charismatic Rule, and the Führer Myth	25
4. Social Control, Self-Policing, and Resistance	31
III. VIOLENCE GIVEN FREE REIN	41
1. Women on the 'Home Front' and in Military Service	41
2. The Morale of the Troops	49
3. Genocidal Warfare, and Fighting the Enemy Within	60
4. Death on the Home and Foreign Fronts: War and the Cult of the Hero	71
IV. PRINCIPLES FOR AND STRUCTURE OF THE VOLUMES	84
1. Guiding Principles	85
2. Structure	92

PART I

Rule, Destroy, Survive

INTRODUCTION TO PART ONE	105
--------------------------	-----

B. The NSDAP, the War, and German Society

BY ARMIN NOLZEN

I. THE NSDAP'S STRUCTURE AND FUNCTIONS BEFORE THE WAR	III
II. MOBILIZING THE TROOPS, AND MOULDING MINDS AND BEHAVIOUR AT HOME, SEPTEMBER 1939 TO APRIL 1941	124
1. Development of Personnel Resources of the NSDAP and its Divisions and Affiliated Organizations	124
2. The Hitler Youth, 'Youth Service', and the 'Protection of Youth'	133
3. The Struggle over the Unity of Homeland and Front: 'Comforts for the Troops' and 'Wehrmacht Welfare'	139
III. 'PEOPLE MANAGEMENT' ON THE HOME FRONT, MAY 1941 TO JULY 1943	148
1. NSDAP Celebrations and 'Activating the Party'	148
2. Racism and Repression: The Party, Foreign Workers, and the German Population	156
3. NSDAP Assistance in the Air War	163
IV. ON THE ROAD TO TOTAL WAR, AUGUST 1943 TO MAY 1945	172
1. Strategies for Mobilization within the Party	172
2. The NSDAP's Involvement in Armaments, and the Reich Plenipotentiary for Total Mobilization	180
3. Home Guard Flak, Fortification-Building, and the Volkssturm	188
V. THE NSDAP AND THE VOLKSGEMEINSCHAFT	201

C. Slaves for the 'Home Front': War Society and Concentration Camps

BY KAROLA FINGS

I. PUBLIC AWARENESS OF THE CONCENTRATION CAMPS	207
II. THE INITIAL STAGES OF PRISONER DEPLOYMENT	209
1. The 'Home Front' and Forced Labour	209
2. Local Policy and the Concentration Camps	217
3. Consensus on the Deployment of Concentration-Camp Inmates	221
III. URBAN SATELLITE CONCENTRATION CAMPS	228
1. The Perpetrators: Engineers and Architects	228
2. The Establishment of Satellite Concentration Camps	233

3. 'Labour Deployment'	245
4. Bomb-Disposal Squads	249
IV. THE CAMPS AND GERMAN SOCIETY	258
1. Concentration-Camp Inmates in Everyday War Society	258
2. Interaction between War Society and the World of the Concentration Camps	265
3. Surrounding Societies Compared	275
V. CONCENTRATION CAMPS ANCHORED IN GERMAN SOCIETY	283

D. Decisions to Murder and to Lie: German War Society and the Holocaust

BY TOBIAS JERSAK

I. INTRODUCTION	287
II. HOLOCAUST AND WAR	289
1. Plans for the 'Final Solution of the Jewish Question' after the War	290
(a) The Polish Campaign	291
(b) The French Campaign	294
(c) The Russian Campaign	298
2. The Basis of the Decision-Making Process	301
(a) Prior Resolve and Order	302
(b) Decision-Making on What? The Content of Hitler's Order	305
3. Shifting the 'Final Solution of the Jewish Question' to during the War	306
(a) Territorial Wars versus Race War in Hitler's Strategy	308
(b) The 1941 Dam Burst: Decisions from Above, Radicalization from Below	312
4. Through Extermination to 'Final Victory'	325
(a) The Function of the Extermination of Jews during the War	325
(b) Conduct of the War and Extermination of the Jews in Parallel	328
III. SOCIETY AND HOLOCAUST IN THE WAR	333
1. Place and Time as Factors of Social Transformation	333
2. German War Society outside the Reich, and the Holocaust	335
(a) Wartime 'Normality'	336
(b) Reconstitution of German War Society at the Places of Mass Extermination	344
3. German War Society inside the Reich, and the Holocaust	359
(a) Removal of the Jews by Deportation	359
(b) Absence of the Jews as Absence of the Jewish Question? Absence, Mourning, and Normality in Wartime	362
(c) The War Penetrates into the Reich, and the Jewish Question Returns	364

4. The Holocaust Becomes Known: War in the Reich and Civil Society in the War	367
IV. NORMALITY OF THE UNIMAGINABLE: WAR WITHIN THE WAR	369
E. Wartime Daily Life and the Air War on the Home Front
BY RALF BLANK
I. THE BOMBING WAR SEEN AS A HISTORICAL EVENT	371
II. THE WAR, AS SEEN ON THE HOME FRONT	375
1. Build-up of the Strategic Air War	375
2. The First Air Raids, 1940 to 1942	376
3. The Bombing War Intensifies from 1943	379
4. Hamburg and Berlin: The Turning Point in the Air War	385
5. Everyday Life 'under the Bombs'	390
III. 'FULLY SERVING THE DEFENCE EFFORT': THE ADMINISTRATION, POLICE, AND COURTS	396
1. Local Administration and the Air War, 1943-1945	396
2. The Air-Raid Protection Police and Gestapo	400
3. The Criminal Courts and the Bombing War	402
IV. COPING WITH THE BOMBING WAR	406
1. Centralization of Civilian Air War Measures from 1942/1943	406
2. Civil Defence Construction, and 'Life down in the Bunker'	409
(a) From Large-Scale Programme to Makeshift Measures	409
(b) Bunkers and Town Planners	418
(c) Survival in Cellars, Tunnels, and Bunkers	422
(d) Air-Raid Warnings, Air Situation Reports, and Cable Broadcasting	428
V. ACCOMMODATION, PROVISIONING, AND 'REPLACEMENT HOMES'	433
1. Planning Emergency Housing and Accommodation	433
2. Providing for the Bombed-Out, 1943-1945	437
3. Replacement Goods for Air-Raid Victims	441
4. Reconstruction Plans	446
VI. 'REVENGE' AND MIRACLE WEAPONS PROPAGANDA	449
1. The Propaganda Offensive from Spring 1943	449
2. The Mirage of War-Winning 'Retaliation'	451
3. Placing Blame	453
4. Maintaining 'Fighting Morale'	454

VII. THE 'SOCIETY IN DISINTEGRATION', 1944/1945	458
1. The Final Phase of the War	458
(a) Air Raids, Every Day and Every Night	459
(b) Severe Damage to Industry and Transport	462
(c) Lynch Law against Allied Aircrew	464
2. The Bombing War Draws to its Close	467
(a) Unceasing Attacks and Air-Raid Warnings	467
(b) Heavy Raids on Berlin	468
(c) An Indiscriminate Bombing War	470
(d) The Disintegration of Everyday Life	473
VIII. THE BOMBING WAR IN FIGURES	475

PART II

The Uniformed Society?

INTRODUCTION TO PART TWO	479
--------------------------	-----

A. Ideological Warfare in Germany, 1919 to 1945

BY JÜRGEN FÖRSTER

I. THE LEGACY OF THE FIRST WORLD WAR	485
II. THE POLITICIZATION OF THE REICHSWEHR/WEHRMACHT	501
III. IDEOLOGICAL WARFARE IN THE EARLY, VICTORIOUS PHASE	524
IV. THE WAR OF IDEOLOGY AND ANNIHILATION IN THE EAST	537
V. BETWEEN OPTIMISM AND DEFIANCE: WAR FOUGHT UNDER MILITARY-IDEOLOGICAL LEADERSHIP	559
VI. THE SHOCK OF STALINGRAD AND THE CRISIS OF MILITARY-IDEOLOGICAL LEADERSHIP	582
VII. THE 'FÜHRER ORDER' OF 22 DECEMBER 1943	614
VIII. IDEOLOGICAL INDOCTRINATION AND PERSONNEL SELECTION	627
IX. THE TOTALNESS OF NATIONAL SOCIALISM AFTER 20 JULY 1944	648

B. The Social Profile of the German Army's Combat Units, 1939-1945

BY CHRISTOPH RASS

I. PRINCIPLES AND PROSPECTS FOR RESEARCHING THE SOCIAL STRUCTURES OF WEHRMACHT UNITS	671
II. CHANGES IN THE ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE OF THE ARMY	678
III. ANALYSIS OF A SPECIMEN INFANTRY DIVISION	689
1. Operational and Structural History	689
2. Development in Personnel Strength	694
3. Military Casualties and Replacements	699
4. The Social Profile of NCOs and Other Ranks	705
(a) Age Structure	706
(b) Regional Origin	710
(c) Social Background	712
(d) National Socialism and Socialization	716
5. Features of the Troops' Collective Biographies	721
(a) Mobilization and Training	721
(b) Time at Duty Station	724
(c) Number of Duty Stations	725
(d) Wounds and Illness	727
(e) Dying, and Death	733
(f) 'Missing' and 'Taken Prisoner'	738
(g) Structural Features of the Various Branches	740
6. Social and Functional Groups	742
(a) Line Officers	742
(b) Non-Commissioned Officers	748
(c) Primary Groups	752
IV. RESULTS	767

C. Military Resistance Activities and the War

BY WINFRIED HEINEMANN

I. RESISTANCE IN GERMAN WAR SOCIETY	771
1. Forms of Resistance	771
2. War as a Determining Factor for National-Conservative Resistance	776
II. THE MILITARY CONSPIRACY: MILITARY MOTIVES FOR RESISTANCE	780
1. The Command Structure	780
(a) 1933 to 1938	780
(b) 1939 to 1944	786

2. An Amateur at the Helm	792
3. A New Military Elite	797
4. The Depletion of the Reich's Resources in Men and Materiel	802
III. THE WAR AS CRIME	807
1. The Treatment of the 'Liberated' Peoples	807
2. The Realization that this was a War of Extermination	810
3. War Crimes and Resistance Activities	815
(a) Criminal Orders	815
(b) Cooperation with Einsatzgruppen	816
(c) Anti-Partisan Warfare	817
IV. COMMUNIST RESISTANCE DURING THE WAR	821
1. The Harnack-Schulze-Boysen group (the Rote Kapelle)	821
2. The National Committee for a 'Free Germany'	823
V. THE BATTLE WITH THE PARTY AND THE SS	827
1. The Power Struggle between Himmler and Fromm	827
2. The Preference Accorded to the Waffen-SS, and the Gestapo's Influence on the Army	830
3. Saving the Army	833
VI. THE ORGANIZATION OF THE COUP D'ÉTAT: GENERAL STAFF PLANS AND THE MILITARY PUTSCH.	835
1. A 'State of Siege'	835
2. VALKYRIE	838
3. Recruitment	846
4. Alternatives to Assassination	856
5. The Assassination Attempts	860
6. The Operational Plans for the Coup d'État	867
7. The Collapse of the Attempted Coup	870
8. Fundamental Flaws, and Failure	872
VII. RESISTANCE AND ENDING THE WAR	876
1. Ending the War as an Aim of Military Resistance Activity	876
2. The Secret Service Aspects of the Resistance	886
(a) Allen W. Dulles in Berne and Zurich	886
(b) Otto John in Madrid	890
(c) The Allied Assessment of the Resistance	892
3. East or West?	893
4. Rommel, Kluge, and the Resistance	895

VIII. RESISTANCE ACTIVITIES UNCONNECTED WITH 20 JULY 1944	905
1. Rescuers in Uniform	905
(a) Wilm Hosenfeld	905
(b) Anton Schmid	906
2. Protection of Monuments and Works of Art	907
(a) Monte Cassino	907
(b) Paris	908
3. The 'Final Struggle' in Germany	909
(a) Ritter von Gadolla and Gotha	909
(b) 'Freedom Action Bavaria'	910
IX. EFFECTS AND CONSEQUENCES	912
1. The Balance Tips in the Regime's Favour	912
2. Increasing Manipulation of the Elite, and the Introduction of the NSFO	915
X. MUTINY, OR MORAL REVULSION?	918
1. The Political Aims of the Resistance	918
2. Resistance as a Process	920
3. The Problems of Evaluation	924
BIBLIOGRAPHY	926
INDEX OF PERSONS	1029