

Table of Contents

Foreword – 10
Ian George

Background to the English translation – 12
David Thomas

Translation Keeps Me Awake – 14
Shelley Sacks

Preface to the English publication – 19
Wolfgang Imdick

Introduction – 24
Wolfgang Imdick

First Book – On the Magnitude of Thought

Introduction – 29

1. The “Philosophy of Freedom” – 31

Rudolf Steiner’s Epistemology

The Epistemological Rationale – 33

The reason for a “Philosophy of Freedom” – and its relation to other works by Rudolf Steiner – 36

Summary – 38

2. “To perform the Wonder of Things” – 39

Microcosm and Macrocosm – Steiner’s Model of the Connections between these Worlds

Microcosm – 40

Macrocosm – 45

Angels – 45

3. The Higher Forms of Thought – 48

Imagination, Inspiration, Intuition

Imagination – 49

Inspiration – 53

Intuition – 59

 Moral Intuition – 59

 The I-In-Itself – 60

 Will – 61

 The Higher I-In-Itself – 63

Summary – 64

4. “A Day in the Life of Brahma” – 66

World History as a History of the Human Being

First Epoch: The Physical Development of the World –

Saturn, Sun, Moon, the Development of the Earth – 68

 Saturn [Fire] – 69

 Sun [Air] – 70

 Moon [Water] – 70

 Earth [Earth] – 70

 An Aside: World Genesis as a Cyclical Process – 74

Second Epoch: The Development of Psyche in the World – Fourth Aeon: Earth – 75

 Paradise – 76

 The Fall from Grace – 76

 Christ – 80

Third Epoch: The Spiritual Development of the Earth – The Later Phases of Earth, Jupiter, Venus, Vulcan	– 80
Materialism	– 80
Resurrection	– 82

5. Concluding Remarks – 83

Second Book – Revolution of the Concepts

Introduction	– 91
--------------	------

1. How does Beuys work with Steiner’s ‘Philosophy of Freedom’? – 94

2. [R]Evolution – 100

Cultures of Inspiration	– 100
-------------------------	-------

Secularisation	– 105
----------------	-------

Plato	– 106
-------	-------

Aristotle	– 108
-----------	-------

Kant	– 111
------	-------

Christianity	– 114
--------------	-------

The City of the Sun	– 117
---------------------	-------

3. “I hereby resign from art” – 122

Joseph Beuys and the Expanded Concept of Art

4. Plastic Theory and Social Sculpture – 130

Afterword	– 137
-----------	-------

Appendix

How is the Spiritual perceived in an Artwork – 140

Inspirations: On the Development of an Artwork in Music, Poetry and Visual Form	– 140
--	-------

The Receiver as Creator	– 145
-------------------------	-------

The Spiritual in Art: Up and Down	– 155
-----------------------------------	-------

Complete Picture Credits – 159

Quoted Literature – 163

Notes – 170