

CONTENT

| | |
|--|----|
| Preface | 7 |
| 1. The School Building, or the Art of Attentiveness | 11 |
| 2. The Classroom, or the Mirror of Habits | 17 |
| 3. Colleagues, or the Virtue of Recognition . . . | 23 |
| 4. The Colleagues at the Faculty Meeting, or the Art of Listening | 31 |
| 5. The School's Parents, or the Art of Being Interested | 43 |
| 1. Parents in the School | 46 |
| 2. Home Visits, the Conversation | 49 |
| 3. The Parents of the Class | 51 |
| 4. The Parent Evening | 55 |
| 5. Summary and Outlook | 60 |
| 6. The Students, or the Art of Being Interested in Everything that is Going On in the World . . | 65 |
| 7. Preparing the Lesson: Thoughts, Feelings, Actions | 71 |
| 8. Concerning Primary Sources, or the Virtue of Veneration | 77 |
| 9. The Lesson, or Gratitude for Life | 85 |
| 1. The Idea of What's Artistic and What's Doable in Education | 86 |
| 2. Pedagogical Relevance | 92 |
| 3. The Meaning of Intellect in School | 97 |

| | |
|---|-----|
| 4. Class Size and Individualization | 103 |
| 5. About the Autonomy of the Teacher | 111 |
| 10. Something About Child Study | 121 |
| 11. Healing Forces in the Life with the Children and Students, or How to Find Active Equanimity | 133 |
| 12. Punishment, or the Opportunity for Originality | 139 |
| 13. Temperament, or a View in the Mirror | 145 |
| 14. On Inner Preparation or Self-Education | 157 |
| Appendix | 173 |
| Survey of the Given Exercises and their Sources | 173 |
| Glossary | 181 |