

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements.....	7
Foreword.....	9
I. Literary Criticism.....	15
Anna Pietrzykowska-Motyka
“Read Thine Own Evil”: Exploring the Faces of Evil in King Lear	17
Monika Mazurek
Awful Disclosures, or, Evil in Disguise: The Convent in the Victorian Protestant Novel	31
Jan Rybicki
“To What Serves Mortal Beauty” in “The Windhover”	39
Przemysław Michalski
The Problem of Violence in the Poetry of Theodore Roethke.....	51
Jutta and Karl Heinz (†) Göller
How Evil Came into the World: Ted Hughes’s “Apple Tragedy”: A Satirical Antithesis to the Biblical Myth of Creation.....	63
II. Comparative Literature	79
Aleksandra Budrewicz-Beratan
Social Evil in Eliza Orzeszkowa and Charles Dickens.....	81
Laurence Davies
Evil Communications in Burdekin and Baldwin	101
Grażyna M. T. Branny
The Unspoken and the Unspeakable: Evil and Intertextuality in William Faulkner’s The Sound and the Fury and Cormac McCarthy’s Outer Dark	121
Marek Pawlicki
Reading Evil, Writing Evil in J. M. Coetzee’s Elizabeth Costello and The Master of Petersburg	133
Dominik Becher
The Disappearance of Evil?: The Anti-Villain as Identification Figure for Young Readers	151

III. Interdisciplinary Studies	173
Wojciech Majka
Subjectivity and Beyond: Ethics and the Question of Good and Evil	175
Małgorzata Pawłowska
Diabolus in Musica	187
Edvard Munch
The Scream	199
J. Gill Holland
Fictions and Metafictions of Evil:
The Case of Edvard Munch, Artist and Author	201
Joanna Podhorodecka
Reviving "Dead" Metaphors:
Images of Evil in J. R. R. Tolkien's The Lord of the Rings	215
Emilia Branny-Jankowska
Demons of Technology: The Computer, the Society and Evil
in Michael Joyce's afternoon and Stuart Moulthrop's Hegirascope	239
Tintoretto
Annunciation	257
Anne Luyat
Terra Infidel: Tintoretto's The Annunciation in Wajdi Mouawad's Ciels	259