

Contents

Preface	vii
David Ingram
Foreword	xiii
Norman Solomon
Acknowledgments	xv
Tony Kashani and Benjamin Frymer
1 Introduction	1
Tony Kashani and Benjamin Frymer
2 From Benetton to Murdoch: The Culture of Money, Shock, and Schlock	7
Henry A. Giroux
3 We Are All in This Thing Together: The Complex Ethics of Social Media Networking	29
Tony Kashani
4 Ritalin: Panic in the USA	39
Toby Miller
5 The Murdoch Media Empire, Journalistic Ethics, and the Spectacle of Scandal	51
Douglas Kellner
6 Media and Ethics: The Public Sphere, Truth Telling, and Practice of Freedom	91
Ali Kashani
7 Alienation in the Age of Spectacle Culture	99
Benjamin Frymer
8 Neoliberal Media's Commodification of Occupy Wall Street and Radical Social Movements	111
Brian Klocke

9 With No Responsibility: The Colbert Show 141
Jjenna Hupp Andrews

10 The Devil Is in the Details:
Christian Messages Gliding Unseen Within Deep Blue Sea 151
Kimberly M. Radek

11 Why Harold and Kumar Go to White Castle:
The Representation of Otherness in Mainstream Teen Cinema 163
Ajay Gehlawat

12 No-Win Avatar: Culture Clash in Pocahontas Revisited..... 177
M.A. Jaimes-Guerrero

Appendix: A Brief Media Studies Resource 187
Joanna Martinez

Contributors 201