

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Places of Original Publication	ix
Introduction	1
PART A: HISTORIOGRAPHY
1 The Early Reformation in Germany between Deconstruction and Reconstruction	7
PART B: SOCIAL AND POLITICAL ASPECTS OF THE EARLY REFORMATION
2 The Reformation and Modern Political Economy: Luther and Gaismaier Compared	33
3 The German Peasants' War and the 'Crisis of Feudalism': Reflections on a Neglected Theme	71
4 The German Peasants' War of 1525 and the English Peasants' Revolt of 1381: A Comparison of Peasant and Urban Participation	101
5 The Collective Response of Women to Early Reforming Preaching: Four Small Communities and their Preachers Compared	117
6 Why was there no Reformation in Freiburg im Breisgau?	143
PART C: RADICALS IN THE REFORMATION
7 The Problem of Heresy in the German Reformation	185
8 Hubmaier, Schappeler, and Hergot on Social Revolution	203

9	Johannes Agricola's Ein nutzlicher Dialogus as a Source for the Peasants' War in Central Germany*	227
10	Müntzer and the Mustard-Seed: A Parable as Paradox?	247
	Afterword	257
	Index of Names and Places	267
	Index of Subjects	281