

CONTENTS

Introduction: Books of Hours—State of the Research	5
Sandra Hindman

I. The Prehistory of Books of Hours and the Growth of Their Modern-Day Appreciation

Some Perspectives on Two French Horae in the Thirteenth Century	19
Adelaide Bennett
Books of Hours and the Art Market from the Seventeenth Century to the Present Day	41
Christopher de Hamel
The Hours of Catherine of Cleves: The Manuscript That Changed the World	51
Roger S. Wieck

II. Centers of Production: England, Germany, and Italy

English Books of Hours c. 1240– c. 1480	65
Nigel Morgan
Another Perspective: The Book of Hours in Germany	97
Jeffrey Hamburger
Italian Books of Hours and Prayer Books in the Fourteenth Century	153
Francesca Manzari

III. Toward a History of Use

Beyond Saints: Variant Litany Readings and the Localization of Late Medieval Manuscript Books of Hours—The d’Orge Hours	213
Gregory T. Clark
Books of Hours from the Northern Netherlands Reconsidered: The Uses of Utrecht and Windesheim and Geert Grote’s Role as a Translator	235
Anne Korteweg

IV. Problems of Workshops

Picardie-Hainaut: quelques remarques sur les livres d’heures produits par le Maître de Rambures et Simon Marmion 265
Marc Gil

Manuscript Production in a Carmelite Convent: The Case of Cornelia von Wulfschkercke. 279
Anne Margreet W. As-Vijvers

La circulation des modèles iconographiques : l’exemple d’un livre d’heures parisien (Paris, Bibliothèque nationale de France, n.a. lat. 3115). 297
Marie-Françoise Damongeot-Bourdat

Matteo de Milano between Ferrara and Rome: The Hours for Dionora of Urbino. 311
Mara Hofmann

The Use of Stamps in Bruges Book Production. 323
Saskia van Bergen

Twins in Attribution: A New Fashion or a Means of Better Understanding?
The Case of the Grandes Heures de Rohan 339
Eberhard König

V. Cycles of Illustrations and Their Texts

Decoration Programs in Books of Hours by the Masters of the Dark Eyes 353
Klara H. Broekhuijsen

Devotional Emphasis and Distinctive Variations in the Illustration of the Hours of the Virgin in Italian Books of Hours 365
Bronwyn Stocks

VI. Books of Hours in the Age of Print

A Group of Hybrid Manuscripts Illustrated with Woodcuts 391
Todor T. Petev

L’édition d’Heures du 21 avril 1505: une oeuvre charnière dans la production de Thielman Kerver? 409
Thierry Claerr

Remarques sur les bois monogrammés dans les livres d’heures français au XVI^e siècle: la fortune des « belles hystoires nouvelles » de Thielman Kerver, de Paris (1519) à Rouen (vers 1593) 419
Ariane Bergeron-Foote

Madeleine de Savoie and the Chantilly Hours of Anne de Montmorency 431
 Elizabeth A. R. Brown

Post-Mortem Inventories as a Source for the Production of Manuscripts and Printed Books of Hours 469
 Mary and Richard Rouse

Notes on the Contributors 479

Selected Bibliography 481

Index of Names. 485

Index of Manuscripts, Printed Books, and Paintings. 491

Photography Credits 497

Colorplates 499