

Contents

Acknowledgments | 7

A Note on Transliteration and Presentation Manner | 9

Prologue: The Day of the Two Suns | 11

Chapter One: Introduction | 21

Research Focus | 22

The Conjunction of War and Tsunami | 24

Batticaloa: An Introduction | 30

Fieldwork Processes | 39

Methodology and Guiding Concepts | 46

Book Synopsis | 58

Chapter Two: A Transitional Place –

The Post-Tsunami Relief Camps | 61

The Post-Tsunami “Welfare Centres” | 63

Upon Entering the Field | 70

Fieldwork Relationships | 73

Stories of Suffering | 79

A Different Fight for Aid | 87

Sandai: Picking a Fight | 95

Conclusion | 105

Chapter Three: The Tsunami’s Gender Face | 107

Discriminatory Disasters | 110

Order in Disorder | 113

Sudden Changes | 123

Conclusion | 133

Chapter Four: Family Ties –

Striving for Control In an Upset World | 135

Kudumbam: Family and Household Concepts | 136

‘Tsunami Love’ | 144

Remarriages: Widowers and Widows | 152

Prawn-like Men? Discussing Domestic Violence | 162

Conclusion | 173

Chapter Five: Dealing with Aid and Anticipating New Homes | 175

Gendered Aid and Strategic Victims | 179

Relocation Politics | 188

Towards New Homes | 197

Conclusion | 211

Chapter Six: A New Beginning | 213

Sudarshini | 214

Tsunami Babies | 223

Negotiating Responsibilities | 235

Conclusion | 240

Chapter Seven: Paittiyam – Risking Madness | 243

Contextualizing Paittiyam | 244

Prasanniya: Keeping Busy | 249

Ramesh: Just Sitting | 259

Dealing with Paittiyam | 268

Conclusion | 275

Chapter Eight: Closing Words | 277

Arguing with the Gods after the Tsunami | 279

Amidst War, Tiraimadu at Last | 287

Reviewing Forms of Coping | 300

Appendices | 307

Appendix 1: Frequently Used Abbreviations | 307

Appendix 2: Glossary | 307

Appendix 3: Name List | 309

Appendix 4: List of Illustrations | 314

References | 315