

My name is copper beech: a tree introduces itself

Imposing, elegant, brawny	12
Of partisans and armies	18
The "Green Hell"	22
Germany, a sea of beeches	24

Rooted

A brief history of regional geology	28
Root ground	32
Histories of the forest	34

Poor and yet rich

The beech forest: poor in species?	38
Diversity in old age – and after a lifetime	40

Treasures and rarities

Very special trees and forests	48
Beautiful places	54
Meadows and pastures	54
Water and creeks	58
Rocks and stones	62
Primeval forest and wilderness	68

Grand entrance

One of 15 – and one of the best	74
Internationally recognised	76
Internationally honoured	80

"Space for nature – respect and experience"

Georg Christoph Lichtenberg (1742 – 1799)	94
---	----