

Table of Contents

Preamble — 1

Introduction — 3

Expressiveness, iconicity and literary tradition — 3

A) Expressiveness — 3

B) Iconicity — 7

B) I Typologies of iconicity — 8

B) I a Images — 8

B) I a 1 Acoustic images — 8

B) I a 2 Visual images — 10

B) I b Diagrams — 10

B) I b 1 Acoustic level — 10

B) I b 2 Visual level — 13

B) I b 3 Structural level — 14

C) Criteria for a stylistic analysis — 17

Chapter 1 Poetry and verse — 19

A) Poetry, verse and enjambement in ancient and modern theory — 19

B) Enjambement in the Aeneid — 26

B) I Interlinear juxtaposition: Virgil's primary device. — 27

B) I a Stylistic effects of interlinear juxtaposition: adjective-noun — 31

B) I b Stylistic effects of interlinear juxtaposition: noun-adjective — 47

B) II Rejet — 58

B) II a Stylistic effects of the rejet of a verb — 59

B) II a 1 Falling — 63

B) II a 2 Throwing — 70

B) II a 3 Blows, thrusts and violent actions — 76

B) II a 4 Momentary actions — 90

B) II b Rejet of noun — 96

B) II b 1 Patronymics, proper names, ethnological names — 97

B) II b 2 Rejet and syntactical expansion — 100

B) II c Rejet of an adjective — 106

B) II c 1 Expressiveness of the rejet of an adjective — 106

- B) II d Mimetic expressiveness of the rejet in direct speech: exhortations, exclamations, demands, orations, conclusions — 113
 - B) II d 1 Imperatives in rejet — 113
 - B) II d 2 Rejet at the close of direct speech — 116
 - B) II d 3 Rejet and interrogative sentences — 118
 - B) II d 4 Vocatives — 121
 - B) II d 5 Rejet and emphasis — 123
- B) III Stylistic effects of the après-rejet — 130
 - B) III a Consequence — 131
 - B) III a 1 Cause and effect — 131
 - B) III a 2 Action and reaction — 136
 - B) III a 3 Reactions to signals or commands — 137
 - B) III a 4 Psychological reactions — 139
 - B) III b Après-rejet of opposition — 142
 - B) III c Immediacy of the action, excitement — 144
 - B) III c 1 Subitus, ocius, mox — 145
 - B) III c 2 Verbal forms — 146
 - B) III d Explanatory après-rejet — 147
 - B) III e Epic closures and sententiae — 149

Chapter 2 Poetry and rhythm: on metrical expressiveness — 152

- A) Stylistic effects of synaloepha — 152
 - A) I Synaloepha and iconic word order — 153
 - A) I a To hide, to hug — 153
 - A) I b Fusion or conflict — 155
 - A) II Synaloepha and rhythm — 156
 - A) II a Rapidity, urgency, commotion — 157
 - A) II b Violence — 163
 - A) II c Effort — 164
 - A) II d Gasping and pathetic synaloepha — 166
 - A) III Synaloepha at the point of a syntactical pause — 175
- B) Synaloepha and hypermetric lines — 178
 - B) I Hypermetre in lists — 179
 - B) II Hypermetre and an effect of suspense — 181
 - B) III Rapidity, agitation, anger — 182
 - B) IV Hypermetre and direct speech — 183
- C) Writing verses in a Greek style: hiatus, spondaic lines, irrational lengthening, four-syllable line-ends — 184
 - C) I Hiatus — 184

C) I a Hiatus and the literary tradition —	185
C) I b Hiatus and expressiveness —	188
C) I b 2 Hiatus and enantiometria —	190
C) II Polysyllables and Graecising line-ends —	192
C) III Σπονδειαίζοντες —	196
D) Stylistic effects of the disposition of caesurae —	198
D) I a Lines with a dearth of masculine caesurae —	200
D) I b Masculine caesurae and spondaic rhythm —	204
E) Stylistic effects of a monosyllable at line-end —	206
 Chapter 3 Word order and meaning — 217
A) Marked order —	217
B) Key positions: beginning and end of line; unimportant words at line-end —	218
C) Significant juxtapositions —	225
C) I Polyptoton: conflict, proximity, similarity —	226
C) II Juxtaposition: conflict, hostility, love, filial relationships —	227
C) III Juxtaposition of adjectives of significant affinity —	232
C) IV Oxymoron by position; unus-omnes ; contrasting colour terms —	233
C) V Juxtaposition of personal and possessive pronouns —	237
D) Hyperbaton, between the literary tradition, expressiveness and iconicity —	239
D) I Hyperbaton in single lines: ‘golden lines’ and hyperbaton framing the verse —	239
D) II Hyperbaton in single lines and iconicity —	242
D) II a Linear hyperbaton —	243
D) II b Framing hyperbaton and icons of closure, cover, containment, and crossing —	245
D) II c Interlocking hyperbaton and the icon of mixture —	248
D) III Expressiveness and iconicity of hyperbaton in enjambement —	249
D) III a Interlinear hyperbaton —	256

Bibliography — 264

Editions and commentaries — 264

Studies — 266

Index Locorum — 274

Index Rerum — 281