

111 Places

- 1___ 813 Royal Street
The house that saved NOLA | 10
- 2___ Abita Mystery House
Scratching the itch for kitsch | 12
- 3___ Aidan Gill for Men
An unapologetically male barbershop | 14
- 4___ Algiers Point
Over da river | 16
- 5___ Angelo Brocato
Leave the diet, take the cannoli | 18
- 6___ Antenna Gallery
A moveable feast of art | 20
- 7___ The Art of Dooky Chase
These walls can talk | 22
- 8___ Audubon Park Labyrinth
Walking a sacred path | 24
- 9___ Bacchanal
Just like it sounds (plus tiki torches) | 26
- 10___ The Batture
Waterfront (sometimes water-infused) property | 28
- 11___ The Bead Tree
Beads for needs | 30
- 12___ Bottom of the Cup
Top-of-the-heap psychic readings | 32
- 13___ Bourbon Orleans Hotel
Dancing with the dead | 34
- 14___ Boutique du Vampyre
One-stop shopping for all your vampire needs | 36
- 15___ Casa Borrega
A feast for the senses | 38
- 16___ Chainsaw Tree
An old oak's rebirth | 40
- 17___ Checkpoint Charlie's
Come for the band, leave with clean socks | 42
- 18___ City Park's Live Oaks
A family of trees | 44

- 19___ Claiborne Corridor
Historic past with a possible future | 46
- 20___ The Cornstalk Hotel
A hotel with apparitional amenities | 48
- 21___ Crescent Park
Reinventing the waterfront | 50
- 22___ DBC
Drive-thru daiquiris | 52
- 23___ Dew Drop Jazz Hall
Worshipping in the house of jazz | 54
- 24___ Dive Bar Alley
The zone for twilight festivities | 56
- 25___ Dr. Bob Folk Art
Welcoming signs inviting you to get out | 58
- 26___ Eiffel Society
A piece of Paris in America's most Parisian city | 60
- 27___ Elizabeth's Restaurant
Where bacon is more than a side | 62
- 28___ Escape My Room
Group interaction to escape clustered internment | 64
- 29___ EvacuSpots
Getting the hell out of Dodge | 66
- 30___ F & F Botanica Spiritual Supply
Ritual-aid charmacy | 68
- 31___ Fats Domino's House
Walking (or driving) to the Ninth Ward | 70
- 32___ Faulkner House Books
The best bookstore that won't have any best sellers | 72
- 33___ Fifi Mahony's
Wig paradise | 74
- 34___ Frenchmen Art Market
A slip of art in a sea of music | 76
- 35___ Freret Street Boxing Gym
Fashionable fisticuffs | 78
- 36___ Gator Run
Keeping it cool at the zoo | 80
- 37___ The Germaine Cazenave Wells Mardi Gras Museum
Oysters Rockefeller with a side of sequins | 82
- 38___ Greg's Antiques
A different kind of sticker shock | 84

- 39___ Hansen's Sno-Bliz
New Orleans' way to beat the heat | 86
- 40___ Hare Krishna Temple
Culinary consciousness | 88
- 41___ The Healing Center
The mall for people who hate malls | 90
- 42___ Holt Cemetery
The unknown grave for the well-known Father of Jazz | 92
- 43___ Hong Kong Food Market
A ridiculous name for a remarkable emporium | 94
- 44___ House of Broel
Dresses, dollhouses, and frog legs | 96
- 45___ House of Dance & Feathers
Street cred in a shed | 98
- 46___ Ignatius J. Reilly Statue
Watching for signs of bad taste | 100
- 47___ James H. Cohen & Sons
Buying a piece of history | 102
- 48___ Jazz Brunch at Atchafalaya
DIY Bloody Marys | 104
- 49___ The Jazz Collection
A brass menagerie | 106
- 50___ Josie Arlington's Tomb
The lady burnishes | 108
- 51___ Kayaking on the Bayou
Commuting with nature | 110
- 52___ Kermit's Mother-in-Law Lounge
Bar of the "Emperor of the Universe" | 112
- 53___ Killer Poboy's
The richest po'boys | 114
- 54___ Lafcadio Hearn's House
The inventor of New Orleans slept here | 116
- 55___ Lakefront Airport
An Art Deco museum masquerading as an airport | 118
- 56___ The LaLaurie Mansion
The house of unspeakable horrors | 120
- 57___ Langlois Culinary Crossroads
If you can't stand the humidity, get into the kitchen | 122
- 58___ Le Musée de f.p.c.
The untold history of free people of color | 124

- 59___ Le Pavillon Hotel
Come for the ghosts, stay for the PB&J | 126
- 60___ Le Petit Théâtre du Vieux Carré
The little theater with the longest run | 128
- 61___ Little Gem Saloon
A "new" jazz club with a 100-year history | 130
- 62___ Louis Armstrong Park
300 years of rhythm | 132
- 63___ Magnolia Bridge
A bridge over befuddled waters | 134
- 64___ Magnolia Lane Plantation
Steeped in history and hauntings | 136
- 65___ Marigny Opera House
Ballet slippers and Beyoncé's sister | 138
- 66___ Meyer the Hatter
Where "old hat" is a compliment | 140
- 67___ Milton Latter Library
A luxury library for leisurely learning | 142
- 68___ Miss Claudia's
Stylish home of "ain't there no mo'" | 144
- 69___ Modern Gargoyles
Things are looking up | 146
- 70___ Musée Conti Wax Museum
Wax on, wax off, wax hanging on by a thread | 148
- 71___ Museum of Death
Morbid menagerie | 150
- 72___ Musicians' Village
Restoring the groove | 152
- 73___ New Canal Lighthouse
Illuminating exhibits | 154
- 74___ The New Movement Theater
Hoping to have the last laugh | 156
- 75___ New Orleans Street Gallery
Art for fresh start's sake | 158
- 76___ NOLA Brewery
Homegrown hops with some funk | 160
- 77___ Norma Wallace House
The best little whorehouse with class | 162
- 78___ One Eyed Jacks
A club with a twist (and some turns) | 164

- 79___ Our Mother of Perpetual Help
Home to priests, a vampire novelist, and a ghost rider | 166
- 80___ Pagoda Café
Coffee and a bike tune-up | 168
- 81___ Piazza d'Italia
Mister Moore's neighborhood | 170
- 82___ Pontalba Buildings
Apartments fit for a baroness | 172
- 83___ The Prayer Room at St. Louis Cathedral
Who dat say Henriette can't be no saint? | 174
- 84___ Prytania Theatre
Where the owner is as entertaining as the films | 176
- 85___ The Rebirth Statue
The game changer for an entire city | 178
- 86___ Ricca's Architectural Sales
Salvaging the history of New Orleans | 180
- 87___ Riverfront Monuments
Honoring old men, nude men, and men we'd like to forget | 182
- 88___ Roman Candy Cart
Strolling sweets | 184
- 89___ The Roosevelt Hotel
A luxury hotel with a legendary history | 186
- 90___ Rosalie Alley
Walk softly and carry a big Zulian stick | 188
- 91___ Royal Street Musicians
Street crescendo | 190
- 92___ Sacred Grinds
Graves and green tea | 192
- 93___ Sam the Banana Man's House
Home of presidents and presidential overthrows | 194
- 94___ The School of Burlesque
Pay attention to draw attention | 196
- 95___ Southern Food and Beverage Museum
Where to explore cuisine of consequence | 198
- 96___ Spanish Stables
The truth is out there ... on a plaque | 200
- 97___ St. Expedite
When you need a miracle – STAT | 202
- 98___ St. Roch Grotto
A chapel with heart ... and feet, and brains | 204

- 99___ St. Roch Market
A food court for foodies | 206
- 100___ Steamboat Houses
One man's home is his cruise ship | 208
- 101___ Street Tiles
History at your feet | 210
- 102___ Studio Inferno
High art across the tracks | 212
- 103___ The Tattoo Museum
A permanent display for permanent ink | 214
- 104___ Tomb of the Unknown Slave
A touchingly undistinguished monument | 216
- 105___ The Umbrella Girl
Existential graffiti | 218
- 106___ Ursuline Convent
Storied ground for the sacred and profane | 220
- 107___ Villalobos Rescue Center
Dogs with a cause | 222
- 108___ Whitney Plantation
America's first slave museum | 224
- 109___ Yvonne LaFleur
Elegance without pretense | 226
- 110___ Zephyr Field
Field of dreams – and a pool | 228
- 111___ Zulu Social Aid & Pleasure Club
Cuckoo for coconuts | 230