

Contents

1	The Wondrous Growth of Nation States in the Age of Globalisation	1
2	Democracy and Nationalism: Twin Children of the Sovereignty of the People	19
3	A Global-Human Perspective: The United Nation States of Europe and the World	37
4	The Peace Congress of the Socialist International in Basel, November 24–25, 1912	55
5	A Century of Wars and Striving for Peace Since the Peace Congress of Basel in 1912	73
6	Sarajevo 1914. A Century of Debate About the Guilt for the First World War	91
7	On the Saying: There Have Always Been Wars. There Will Always Be Wars as Long as Humanity Exists	119
8	The Present Clash of Religious Communities and Regional Civilisations in the Global Civilising Process	137
9	Geopolitics: An Ideology for Legitimising the National Socialist Policy of Conquest or a Scientific and Political Field that Is Unappreciated Today?	153
10	Democratisation or the Restoration of Dictatorship as the Outcome of the Arab Rebellion	171
11	“With What Ink Remains”: Stabbing a Pen into the Hornet’s Nest of Israeli, Jewish and German Sensitivities	187
12	Kashmir: Flashpoint for a Nuclear War or Even a Third World War?	205
13	The New Western War of Intervention in Mali	221

14	Linguistic Assimilation of All Citizens or Minority Protection: The Precedent Set by the Åland Islands	239
15	Canada: Has It Passed the Tests as a Multicultural Nation, or Has the Democratic Secession of Quebec Been Postponed? . . .	257
16	The Exacerbation of the Competition Between Brussels and Moscow Over the Integration of Ukraine	285
	Table of Contents for Volumes 1 and 2	313