

Introduction

Germany and 'the West': The Vagaries of a Modern Relationship 1
Riccardo Bavaj and Martina Steber

Part 1: Rises and Silences of 'the West'

Chapter 1	41
In Search of 'the West': The Language of Political, Social and Cultural Spaces in the Sattelzeit , from about 1770 to the 1830s Bernhard Struck
Chapter 2	55
The Kaiserreich and the Kulturländer : Conceptions of the West in Wilhelmine Germany, 1890–1914 Mark Hewitson
Chapter 3	69
The First World War and the Invention of 'Western Democracy' Marcus Llanque
Chapter 4	81
Perceptions of the West in Twentieth-Century Germany Anselm Doering-Manteuffel

Part 2: East–West Entanglements

Chapter 5	97
Russian and German Ideas of the West in the Long Nineteenth Century: Entanglements of Spatial Identities Denis Sdvížkov

Chapter 6	111
‘Orient’ and ‘Occident’, ‘East’ and ‘West’ in the Discourse of German Orientalists, 1790–1930
Douglas T. McGetchin
Chapter 7	124
German Jews and the West: Identification, Dissimilation and Marginalization around the Turn of the Century
Stefan Vogt
Part 3: Liberal Ambiguities and Strategies of ‘Westernization’
Chapter 8	139
Between ‘East’ and ‘West’? A Liberal Dilemma, 1830–1848/49
Benjamin Schröder
Chapter 9	152
Before ‘the West’: Rudolf von Gneist’s English Utopia
Frank Lorenz Müller
Chapter 10	167
Weimar and ‘the West’: Liberal Social Thought in Germany, 1914–1933
Austin Harrington
Chapter 11	183
Germany and ‘Western Democracies’: The Spatialization of Ernst Fraenkel’s Political Thought
Riccardo Bavaj
Part 4: Nationalist Self-Centredness and Conservative Adaptations
Chapter 12	201
‘The West’ in German Cultural Criticism during the Long Nineteenth Century
Thomas Rohkrämer
Chapter 13	216
No Place for ‘the West’: National Socialism and the ‘Defence of Europe’
Philipp Gassert
Chapter 14	230
‘The West’, Tocqueville and West German Conservatism from the 1950s to the 1970s
Martina Steber

Part 5: Socialists between 'East' and 'West'

Chapter 15	249
'The West' as a Paradox in German Social Democratic Thought: Britain as Counterfoil and Model, 1871–1945 Stefan Berger
Chapter 16	262
Bridge over Troubled Water: German Left-Wing Intellectuals between 'East' and 'West', 1945–1949 Dominik Geppert
Chapter 17	277
Antipathy and Attraction to the West and Western Consumerism in the German Democratic Republic Katherine Pence
Selected Bibliography	293
List of Contributors	301
Index	307