

Contents

Introduction	13
Part I: Dethroning Philosophy	17
1. Paul at the Areopagus.....	17
Authenticity.....	18
An Appraisal of the Speech	24
Truth Facing the Tribunal of Opinions	27
Irony.....	30
2. Letters.....	32
Knowledge-Acknowledgment-Conversion.....	33
Degradation and Development.....	37
The Possibility of Virtue before Christianity.....	39
Credibility and Proof	43
Several Observations about the Paradoxicality of the Truth.....	52
3. Philosophy as a Conversion of Existence and Knowledge	60
Man against the Backdrop of the Whole	64
Man as the Whole (Integral Conversion)	68
Change and Permanence	70
Philosophy as a Spiritual Exercise.....	73
Christianity as Philosophy.....	78
Part II: Witness as Proof	85
1. The Concept of Martyrdom	86
Evolution of a Concept.....	86
Jewish Sources.....	91
The Philosophical Tradition	94

2.	Knowledge and Witness.....	101
	The Criterion of Laches.....	101
	Skepticism and Praxis.....	109
	The Sage as the Condition for the Meaning and Criterion of Truth	116
4.	The Witness of Deeds.....	119
	The Problem of Philosophical Biography.....	119
	Witness According to Epictetus.....	124
	Martyrdom and Conversion	129
	The Conditions of a Proof.....	136

Part III: Perfection and Death..... 139

1.	Dramatis Personae.....	141
2.	Preparing for Death.....	147
	The Archparadox of the Phaedo	147
	Death as a Way of Life.....	154
	Exhortation to Martyrdom	157
	An Evil World or the Evil of the World?.....	161
3.	The Problem of Suicide.....	165
4.	Death as a Proof.....	174
	Philosophers and Philomaths	174
	False Witness and an Attempt to Avoid the Impasse	180

Part IV: Martyrdom as a Complete Conversion.....185

1.	Divinization.....	185
	The Sage as God.....	185
	Plato and Aristotle: The Issue Whether the Sage Exists.....	189
	Continuation of the Discussion: Peripatetics and Stoics.....	195

2. The Christian Homoiosis Theo	200
Affirmation of the Spirit	200
Affirmation of the Body.....	207
3. The Martyr as God?.....	212
Teleioi	212
Foretaste of the Resurrection	216
Transformation of Knowledge.....	225
Transformation of Existence: Who is a Witness?	232
 Conclusion: Faith, Knowledge, Witness	 241
 Index	 253
 Bibliography	 261