

Table of Contents

|                                                         |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Preface .....                                           | 11  |
| A letter from the polar bear .....                      | 13  |
| Fireside conversations .....                            | 51  |
| In the slough of despond .....                          | 57  |
| Out of the wood .....                                   | 61  |
| The good moon of Shedua .....                           | 69  |
| Makalu .....                                            | 77  |
| Choosing the route.....                                 | 85  |
| Two to camp two .....                                   | 92  |
| An eight-thousander for your birthday .....             | 99  |
| Summit cake and gullet goblins.....                     | 115 |
| The night that shouldn't have been .....                | 120 |
| OK, little man, what now? Bivouac at 8,250 metres ..... | 124 |
| Qualms of conscience and granted prayers.....           | 129 |
| Descent to the highpoint .....                          | 133 |
| Sorry for these members! .....                          | 142 |
| APPENDIX.....                                           | 146 |
| A word of thanks .....                                  | 146 |
| Litreature .....                                        | 149 |