

Table of contents

Acknowledgements — v

Christoph Schubert

Introduction: Current trends in register research — 1

Section I: Specialised registers

Douglas Biber and Jesse Egbert

Towards a user-based taxonomy of web registers — 19

Heidrun Dorgeloh

The interrelationship of register and genre in medical discourse — 43

Markus Bieswanger

Aviation English: Two distinct specialised registers? — 67

Rolf Kreyer

‘Now niggas talk a lotta Bad Boy shit’: The register hip-hop from a corpus-linguistic perspective — 87

Teresa Pham

The register of English crossword puzzles: Studies in intertextuality — 111

Section II: Cross-register comparison

Christina Sanchez-Stockhammer

Punctuation as an indication of register: Comics and academic texts — 139

Martina Lampert

Linking up register and cognitive perspectives: Parenthetical constructions in academic prose and experimentalist poetry — 169

Stella Neumann and Jennifer Fest

Cohesive devices across registers and varieties: The role of medium in English — 195

Section III: Regional, contrastive and diachronic register variation

Barbara Güldenring

Metaphors in New English academic writing — 223

Steffen Schaub

The influence of register on noun phrase complexity in varieties of English — 251

Valentin Werner

Real-time online text commentaries: A cross-cultural perspective — 271

Javier Pérez-Guerra

Word order is in order here: A diachronic register analysis of syntactic markedness in English — 307

Index — 337