

Contents

Preface	6
On the path of self-discovery – The development of Russian lacquerwork	9
The Korobov, Austen and Ek manufactories in the early nineteenth century	31
‘Fabrika Pyotra Lukutina’ – The Lukutin manufactory, formerly Korobov, under Pyotr Lukutin, 1818 to 1841	45
The Lukutin manufactory under the dual management of Pyotr Vasilyevich and Aleksandr Petrovich Lukutin from 1841 to 1863, and under the sole directorship of Aleksandr Lukutin from 1863 to 1876	63
Material imitation at the Lukutin manufactory, at the workshops of the Vishnyakovs, and at the Matveyev manufactory from the mid-nineteenth century to the 1880s	105
Russian subjects in the painting of the Lukutin manufactory and the Vishnyakov workshops in the later nineteenth century
Views of Moscow	115
Peasant and Little Russian motifs	127
Motifs from the world of the seventeenth-century boyars after Konstantin Makovskiy	153
The Lukutin manufactory under the direction of Nikolai Lukutin, 1876/88 to 1902	161
Lacquer painting on silver around 1900	181
The Fedoskino Artel from 1910 to 1917 – The beginnings of lacquer painting in Fedoskino	187
Palekh and its ‘Artel for Ancient Painting’, 1924 to 1941	195
Under the double-headed eagle in gold – The marks of the Russian lacquer manufactories	219
Chronology and Register of Marks	224
Select Bibliography on Russian Lacquer	244
Reference List	246
Photographic Credits	247