

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments vii

Abbreviations ix

Introduction	1
1. The Earliest Proponents of Criminalization	20
The Scholastic Origins of Criminal Abortion	22
Forms of Sentencing in Medieval Jurisprudence	30
Crimen in “An Age without Lawyers” (500–1050)	34
2. Early Venues of Criminalization	45
Crimen in Sacramental Confession	47
Judicial Crimen in the Ecclesiastical Courts	53
Public Penitential Crimen	59
Royal Jurisdiction in Thirteenth-Century England	66
3. Chief Agents of Criminalization	76
Legislation versus Juristic Communis Opinio	79
Communis Opinio and Peer Dissent	88
Systematic Law before the Rise of the Modern State	95
4. Principal Arguments in Favor of Criminalization	100
Successive Animation and Creatianism	102

Legal and Theological Assessments of Therapeutic Abortion	110
The Demise of Late Medieval Embryology	116
5. Objections to Criminalization	123
Customary Indifference North and East of the River Rhine	125
Rejection in the Royal Courts of England (1327–1557)	134
6. Abortion Experts and Expertise	149
Evidence of Midwifery	152
Medical Embryology and Abortion Discourse	158
Abortifacient Prescriptions	162
7. Abortion in the Criminal Courts of the Ius Commune	171
Criminal Accusationes and Inquisitiones	173
The Rules and Safeguards of Ordinary Inquisitiones	177
Extraordinary Inquisitiones	186
8. Forms of Punishment in the Criminal Courts of the Ius Commune	198
Statutory and Customary Specifications	201
Substitute Penalties	207
Adjustment Out of Court	214
9. The Frequency of Criminal Prosecutions	220
Viable Statistical Queries	221
Geography and Patterns of Record Keeping	227
A Triad of Typical Cases	233
Bibliography	241
Index	259