

Contents

Globalisation I

Cartoons

- 1 Dave Granlund, 18 April 2016 (deforestation, Earth Day)
- 2 Steve Greenberg, 20 April 2011 (resources, consumption)
- 3 Roy Delgado, 8 July 2011 (consumption, outsourcing vs. local production)
- 4 Wilfred Hildonen, 15 February 2010 (tourism, pollution, Westernization)
- 5 Andrew Toos, 26 December 2004 (civilisation vs. nature)
- 6 Marian Kamensky, 23 April 2015 (refugees, disaster tourism)
- 7 Popa Matumula, 13 October 2009 (migrant workers, impact of economic crises)
- 8 Polyp (Paul Fitzgerald), 12 May 2010 (modern-day slavery, poverty)
- 9 Rob Rogers, 21 August 2015 (sweatshops, child labour, Amazon)
- 10 Matt Wuerker, 12 April 2016 (consumption, materialism, Westernization)
- 11 Steve Breen and Mike Thompson, 2004 (outsourcing, India)
- 12 Jürgen Tomicek, 2007 (poverty, Third World, lack of integration)

Role Plays

- 13
- A • a congressman/woman who is convinced that the Arctic oceans should be protected
  - B • a congressman/woman who is sure that protecting the oceans will cause unemployment and lack of energy
- 14
- A • a BBC correspondent in China who thinks that industrialization and traffic have to be stopped
  - B • a Chinese owner of a small textile firm who thinks that the west is hypocritical
- 15
- A • a daughter of a Chinese farmer looking for work in a textile factory in one of the great cities
  - B • a middle-class student who sees the risks and whose parents are very critical of migrant workers
- 16
- A • a football star who does not agree with the exploitation of migrant workers
  - B • an advisor to the star thinking that the show must go on and that organizers improved working conditions
- 17
- A • an owner of a little café going bankrupt because of an unfair tax system favouring great chains
  - B • an advertising expert suggesting to make the best of it and use the chance of a gap in the market
- 18
- A • a Secretary of State and Industry who prefers a protectionist policy
  - B • a Secretary of State who is against protectionist policy and is of the opinion that trade guarantees peace