

Contents

1 Passion Plays in Poland — 1

- 1.1 The Background for the Study of Passion Plays in Poland — 1
- 1.2 The Passion Plays of Today: Worldwide — 3
- 1.3 The Passion Plays of Today: Poland — 7
- 1.4 The Mystery Plays of Old – Mediaeval Dramas versus Contemporary Reenactments of the Passion of Christ — 13
- 1.5 Polish Passion Plays – an Anthropological Carte Blanche? — 20
- 1.6 An Embarrassment of Riches — 21
- 1.7 The Field of Research — 25
- 1.8 An Anthropologist as a Participant in the Passion of Christ — 27
- 1.9 Potato Beetle — 30
- 1.10 The Structure of the Book — 33

2 The Category of Performance in the Study of Religious Culture — 36

- 2.1 Religion and Religious Culture — 36
- 2.2 Performance Studies — 37
- 2.3 The Foundation for Anthropological Performance Theory — 38
- 2.4 The General Interpretation of the Concept of Performance in Anthropology — 40
- 2.5 The Ambiguity of the Term “Performance” — 42
- 2.6 How to Isolate a Performance? — 47
- 2.7 Performance and Experience — 48
- 2.8 A Religious Experience — 53
- 2.9 Reflexivity — 56
- 2.10 The Notion of Performance as a Tool for Interpreting Reenactments of the Passion of Christ — 58

3 Participatum — 65

- 3.1 Embodiment — 65
- 3.2 Historicity — 66
- 3.3 Location — 77
- 3.4 Authority — 84
- 3.5 The Form of the Passion Plays — 92
- 3.6 Means — 100
- 3.7 Strategy — 117
- 3.8 The Agenda of Passion Plays — 125

VI — Contents

4 Participans — 130

- 4.1 The Participants — 130
- 4.2 Participation in Passion Plays — 136
- 4.3 The Actors — 146
- 4.4 Performativity — 150
- 4.5 The role — 156
- 4.6 The Spectators — 188
- 4.7 Communitas — 194
- 4.8 Sensualism — 200
- 4.9 Vita religiosa — 209
- 4.10 The meanings — 215

5 Conclusion — 221

6 Appendix — 230

List of Figures — 230

7 Bibliography — 232

Index of Names and Biblical Characters — 258

Subject Index — 260