

Contents

Preface	ix
Map: The Empire in the Eleventh and Twelfth Centuries	xi
1 The Eagle Is Born	1
2 Restoring the Roman Empire	5
A. Prelude to Empire	5
B. The Carolingians Replaced	7
C. Protecting the Homeland	10
D. Creating a State	12
E. Enlisting Leaders of the Church	13
F. Administering the Kingdom	14
G. Italy and Empire	16
H. The Ottonian Renaissance	17
J. Hrotswitha of Gandersheim	19
K. The End of the Old Warrior's Campaign	20
3 Growing Peace and Prosperity	23
A. The Agricultural Revolution	23
B. Otto II: Advances and Setbacks	26
C. Sources of Strength	29
D. A Flourishing Culture	29
4 A Vision of Christendom	31
A. The Early Years of Otto III	31
B. Pope Sylvester II	32
C. Adelbert of Prague, Boleslav the Bold, and Stephen of Hungary	33
D. Church Reform and Roman Restoration	34
E. Intellectual Life under Otto III	35

F. The End of the Reign	36
5 Reform and Imperial Theocracy	37
A. The King and Emperor	37
B. Episcopal and Monastic Reform	38
C. Imperial Theocracy	39
D. The Making of the Theocrat	40
E. The Governance of the Empire	41
F. Universality and Regionalism	42
6 The Construction of a State	45
A. Choosing the King	45
B. The Governance of the Realm	46
C. The Triumphant Warrior and Diplomat	49
D. Conrad and the Church	51
E. Death and Legacy	52
7 Apogee of Empire	55
A. The Accession of Henry III	55
B. The Governance of the Realm	56
C. Dealing with Dukes and Kings	57
D. Defending Frontiers	58
E. The Benevolent Theocrat	58
F. The Reform Captures Rome	59
8 The Investiture Conflict	63
A. Reform: The Second Phase	63
B. Henry IV	64
C. The Battle Is Joined	66
D. The Roots of the Struggle	69
9 The Great Settlement	71
A. Henry V Ascends the Throne	71
B. Pursuing a Compromise	74
C. The Resolution	76
10 Kings, Cistercians, and Crusades	79
A. Lothar the Saxon	79
B. Cistercians and the Third Stage of the Reform	80
C. The Schism of 1130	82
D. The Reign of Conrad III	83
E. Calling a New Crusade	83
F. The Journey to the East	85
G. The Other Crusades	86
11 Three Gifted Germans	89
A. Anselm of Havelberg and the Idea of Progress	89
B. Hildegard of Bingen: The Sibyl of the Rhine	91

C. Otto of Freising Offers a Mirror for Princes	93
12 The Red-Bearded Ruler	97
A. The Long Reign Begins	97
B. Building a Power Base	98
C. Capturing the Church	99
D. Taming the Most Powerful	100
E. The First Italian Expedition and the Diet of Besançon	100
F. The Second Italian Expedition and the Diet of Roncaglia	102
G. The Third and Fourth Expeditions	104
H. The Fifth and Sixth Expeditions	105
J. The Defiance of Henry the Lion	107
K. The Third Crusade	108
L. The Legacy	109
M. Assessments	112
13 The Flowering of Medieval German Literature	113
14 The Turning Point	119
A. Henry VI, an Ambitious Emperor	119
B. Pope Innocent III	121
C. The Much-disputed Succession	122
D. The End of the Ottonian Empire	123
15 Political Reconstitution	127
A. The Failure of Imperial Rule	127
B. The Golden Bull	130
C. Continuing Decentralization	132
D. Territorialism	135
16 The Late Medieval Laity	139
A. The Governing and Military Classes	139
B. Merchants, Manufacturers, and Tradesmen	140
C. The Farmers' Life	142
D. Pandemic and Persecution	143
17 Thirteenth-Century Friars and Holy Women	145
A. Blackfriars	146
B. Holy Women	149
18 Fourteenth-Century Spiritual Leaders	157
A. Meister Eckhart	157
B. John Tauler	159
C. Henry Suso	160
D. John Ruusbroec	162
E. Gert Groote and the Devotio Moderna	163
19 The Failure of the Institutional Church	165
A. The Late Medieval Papacy	165

B. The Babylonian Captivity	165
C. The German Church: The Bishops	168
D. The German Church: Parish Life	168
E. Popular Piety	169
F. Indulgences	171
20 The Cusanus	173
A. Youth and Education	173
B. The Council of Basel	174
C. The Mission to Constantinople	175
D. The Papal Legate	175
E. The Reforming Cardinal	176
F. The Bishop of Brixen	176
G. The Wide Range of Intellectual Concerns	177
H. The Last Days	178
21 The Death of the Eagle	179
A. Two German Reformers	179
B. The Indulgence Controversy	180
C. Biblical Editions and Translations	181
D. Grace and Free Choice	182
E. The Churches Split	183
F. The Thirty Years' War	183
Genealogical Tables	187
The Saxon and Salian Kings of Germany	188
The Hohenstaufen and Their Rivals	189
The Luxemburg, Hapsburg, and Wittelsbach Rulers	190
Index I: Most Important Persons	191
Index II: Lands, Peoples, and Their Languages	195
Index III: Major Cities and Towns	197