

Sci-Tech & Media I

Cartoons

- 1 Seppo Leinonen, 16 August 2010 (Monsanto, GM Food)
- 2 Dave Granlund, 8 August 2013 (stem cell research, cloning)
- 3 BART, 10 July 2008 (Internet chat groups, sperm donation, artificial insemination)
- 4 Andy Davey, 2010 (cloning of animals)
- 5 Marty Bucella, 15 February 2013 (humanoid robots, unemployment)
- 6 Richard Jolley, 31 August 2001 (cyberspace, getting lost in virtual realities)
- 7 Kipper Williams, 5 December 2013 (drones, Amazon, Google, Internet shopping)
- 8 Peter Wellemann, 8 November 2013 (digitalization, uncontrollable robots)
- 9 Dave Granlund, June 2013 (domestic surveillance)
- 10 Steve Breen, 21 May 2013 (surveillance, terrorism)
- 11 Randy McIlwaine, 27 January 2010 (reality TV, reality TV shows)
- 12 Mike Keefe, 25 May 2010 (social networking, smartphone addiction)

Role Plays

- A • a member of parliament who thinks that PGD should be used under certain conditions
- 13 B • a member of parliament who is against PGD
- A • a female IT-specialist who is offered social freezing and is torn between her job and the wish to have a child
- 14 B • her husband, an entrepreneur, who abhors social freezing and cloning
- A • a social worker supporting people with Down's syndrome fearing to be made redundant by a robot
- 15 B • the boss of the firm seeing the opportunities robots provide for the training and support of employees with Down's syndrome
- A • a journalist who criticizes that all the workers of a firm are replaced by drones
- 16 B • an executive of the firm who is shocked by the incident but is still convinced of the advantages of drones
- A • a Facebook user whose social media profile was hacked and identity stolen
- 17 B • an advisor of a consumer protection organization who is outraged about the breaches in security
- A • a rock star who needs the media for his job but still wants to have privacy
- 18 B • a fan who loves to get every bit of information about his idol but who himself is being stalked