

Table of Content

1) Introduction	11
a) How does Hirst Depict Consumption?	11
b) How is the Term Consumer Culture Used in this Study?	20
c) Sources	22
2) Consumption Concepts and their Use in the Present Investigation	27
a) The Term Consumption	27
b) Consumerism	28
i) The Concept of Consumerism	28
ii) Cultural Critique, Critique of Authority and Environmental Criticism	31
c) Consumer Society	32
i) Narrowing down »consumer society«	32
ii) Emergence of Consumer Societies	34
d) Consumption and Religion	36
e) Consumption in Art History	40
i) Marcel Duchamp	41
ii) Andy Warhol	45
iii) Jeff Koons	48

Table of Content

3) London at the Turn of the Millennium	53
a) London's Cultural Landscape since 1980	55
b) Damien Hirst and Young British Artists	58
c) What Makes a British Artist in the 1990s a Young British Artist?	66
i) YBAs after 2000	74
ii) Blair, BritPop and Cool Britannia	77
4) Damien Hirst	79
a) The »Natural History« Series	79
b) »The Golden Calf« (2008)	87
i) Material Matters – Animal, Gold and Showcase	95
ii) Art auction / happening – »Beautiful Inside My Head Forever«	108
c) Butterfly Paintings (1991 – 2008)	112
i) »Girls, Who Like Boys, Who Like Boys, Who Like Girls, Like Girls, Like Boys« (2006)	118
ii) »Devotion« (2003)	124
iii) Fly Paintings and Sculptures (1997 – 2008)	139
d) »For the Love of God« (2007)	144
e) Spot Paintings (Since 1986)	170
i) »One of a Kind« Work of Art or Mass Production? Hirst and Series	175
ii) Hirst and the Tradition of Painting	176
iii) Drugs, Medicine (Cabinets) and Candy	183
iv) Reality and Ritual	189
v) Yuppie Art for 'Over the Sofa« – Spot Paintings in Movies	191
vi) The Handling of a Location – White Cube and Museum	193
vii) Faith in Medicine and Advertising	194
viii) Over-Identification with the Viewer	199

5) Banksy and Damien Hirst	203
a) Street Art – The Rise of Banksy	203
b) The Spectacularization of Art	208
c) »Keep it Spotless (Defaced Hirst)« (2007)	211
d) The Location Reference – Street (and) Art	226
6) Artistic strategies for Dealing with Consumer Phenomena (Conclusion)	231
a) Hirst's Illusion of Consumer Paradise	234
i) The Controlled »Shock«	234
ii) Over-Identification and Irony	235
b) Images of Images	236
c) (Dis-) Placement and Staging	237
d) Brands not Products	239
e) Advertising	242
f) The Viewer-Buyer and Collector as Perfect Consumer	243
g) (Im-)Material Things	247
7) Bibliography	253
i) Web Sources Naming an Author	253
ii) Web Sources without Naming an Author	264
iii) Further Websites	269
iv) Printed Newspaper Articles, Essays in Magazines and Interviews	272
v) Books and Exhibition Catalogues	275
vi) Videos	281
Index	283