

Table of Contents

Foreword	9
Inaugural Lecture	13
I. Comparative Perspectives in Procedural Law: Some Remarks and Proposals Fernando Gascón Inchausti	15
II. Comparative Law: A Plurality of Methods Margaret Woo	47
Procedural Law and Methodology	65
I. Mauro Cappelletti's Methodology in Comparative Civil Justice and the Coercive Powers of Courts as a Case Study Carlo Vittorio Giabardo	67
II. Beware of Legal Families: The Example of the Effects of Res Judicata Toward Third Parties Valentin Rétornaz	93
III. Statistical Methods in Comparative Civil Procedure – Chances and Risks Christoph A. Kern Christoph A. Kern	121

On the Role of the Courts	145
 The Changing Role of Courts between the Privatization of Adjudication and the Privatization of Procedure Juliana Pondé Fonseca	 147
 National Procedural Law	 173
 I. The Italian Assisted Negotiation for Legal Separation and Divorce Luisa Enna	 175
 II. The Impact of the EU Financial Crisis in the Europeanization of the Greek Civil Procedural Law: A Multi-Methodological Insight to the New Greek Civil Procedure Code (2015), its Scope and Innovative Provisions Anastasia L. Papadopoulou	 211
 III. Supreme Courts: “Filters” and the Case Selection. Argentina’s Writ of Certiorari in a Comparative Perspective Leandro J. Giannini	 249
 International Courts	 267
 I. The Court of the Eurasian Economic Union: Basic and Some Controversial Questions of Jurisdiction and Procedure Yuliya Barel	 269
 II. The Court of Justice of the European Union as an Institutional Model for the African Court of Justice and Human Rights Antal Berkes	 295

III. When Titans Clash: Setting Standards for Child Abduction by the CJEU and the ECtHR	327
Michele Angelo Lupoi
Collective Redress	343
I. Collective Due Process of Law: Reconciling Representation and Participation	345
Edilson Vitorelli
II. Access to Justice of Disadvantaged Groups and Judicial Control of Public Policies through Class Actions in Argentina	391
Francisco Verbic
III. Financial Consumer Redress by ADR and ODR. New European Approaches	415
Ana Isabel Blanco García
IV. Eduardo J. Couture. Footmarks that Help in Understanding the Present	441
Eduardo Oteiza
Arbitration and ADR/ODR	451
I. The Theory and Practice of Precedent in Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods	453
Beata Fröhlich
II. When Forward-Looking Aspect of Precedent Justifies Immediate Formally Binding Decisions	477
Eduardo de Avelar Lamy

III. Some Remarks about Collective Procedural Law and the New Brazilian Civil Procedure Code	491
Aluisio Gonçalves de Castro Mendes
Meeting Points: International, European, Domestic Procedural Law	507
I. Judicial Review of Administrative Decisions in Domestic Courts – Union Law Requirements on the locus standi of Individuals	509
Hilde K. Ellingsen
II. Procedural Law and Global Governance: Exploring and Mapping a New Research Field	535
Remo Caponi
Index	547