

Table of contents

Foreword to the English edition	5
About the subject matter	7
Theoretical Part	7
Case History Parts I and II	8
Introduction	10
A Seventeenth-Century Demonological Neurosis	10
The counterpart of the “demonological neurosis”: the ecstasy of St Teresa	20
A nocturnal visit	25
When a “side-effect” becomes the main effect	35
Theoretical part	38
The EGO: spirit and soul in dual union	38
The Szondi test	65
The psychodiagnostic Szondi test and the projective EGO	84
The projective EGO – its symptoms in the Szondi test	89
When the EGO is “derailed”	92
The projective EGO – verbal and non-verbal communication	98
p –: far more than a sign – the universal key to the soul	101
The unusual abilities of the projective EGO	110
The projective EGO – a phenomenal communication genius	112
Intuition, an ability that is part of transcendence	114
C.G. Jung and synchronicity	115
Case History Part I	121
The phenomenon of transference and counter-transference	121
Transference – positive or negative	125
A transference and counter-transference example from psycho-analytical practice	128
Sigmund Freud and his depiction of transference problems	131
Transference, counter-transference and genotropically directed selection	134

Transference and counter-transference, or intuition?	142
Sleep, death, religion and God	144
Case History Part II	169
Bishop Lanyi's historical Sarajevo dream	170
King Belshazzar, the mysterious writing of "MENE MENE TEKEL UPHARSIN" and the prophet Daniel	182
The 11.45 train	189
A small dream within a dream	199
Two sealed envelopes	201
"Two sealed envelopes": comment, January 2016	207
The Galileo thermometer and the investment fund	213
"A train to Manhattan"	241
Ein Zug nach Manhattan and the significance of this film in the patient's dream	264
A new dream, remembered during the dreamwork on Ein Zug nach Manhattan	277
The memory of another dream far back in the past	288
Summary by the patient and some subsequent reflections	319
Mysterium tremendum	323
Two codes	335
Postscript	338
Acknowledgements	343
In the margin: something else that needs to be said	345
Moses and Freud	345
Sigmund Freud – Moses, Part III, "Prefatory Note"	346
Einstein and the religions – the God Letter of 1954	362
Appendix	368
Free will	368
Conscience problems are EGO problems	374
Bibliography	379
List of diagrams	381