

Contents

- 1 Introduction — 1
 - Legitimate and Illegitimate Government — 1
 - Monarchy and Revolution — 3
 - Preserving Legitimacy, a Never-Ending Task — 5
 - Approach and Disposition — 8
 - Levels of Analysis — 10
 - Social, Geographic, and Chronological Limits — 11
 - Point of Departure, Method, and Aims of the Investigation — 12

- 2 Violence — 14
 - Acceptance or Constraint — 14
 - George III and the American Revolution — 16
 - Charles X and the July Revolution — 18
 - Louis-Philippe and the February Revolution — 22
 - Friedrich Wilhelm IV and the March Revolution — 23
 - Mirabeau and the Force of Bayonets — 26
 - Foreign Intervention — 27
 - Peterloo 1819 — 28
 - Milan 1898 — 32
 - St. Petersburg 1905 — 34

- 3 Dynasty — 40
 - Dynasties and States — 40
 - Dynastic Crises — 44
 - The Crisis of the House of Valois 1559–1589 — 47
 - The Time of Troubles in Russia 1598–1613 — 48
 - The Dynastic Crisis in Spain 1833–1839: Isabelinos and Carlistas — 50
 - Pretenders Foreign to the Dynasty — 53
 - From the House of Stuart to the House of Hanover 1688–1714 — 55
 - The Foundation of New Hereditary Monarchies in the Age of Revolutions — 56
 - Dynastic Anniversaries — 60
 - Dynasty, Nation, and Constitution — 64
 - Disempowered Dynasties' Quest for Restoration — 70

4 Religion — 75

- The Sacral Character of Monarchy — 75
- The Inviolability of the Constitutional Monarch — 78
- Doubts about the Divine Right of Kings — 80
- Coronations — 82
- Napoleon's Imperial Coronation in 1804 — 84
- Napoleonic State Cult and the Church — 87
- The Sacre of Charles X 1825 — 88
- The Coronation of William I of Prussia in 1861 — 91
- Russian Autocracy and Orthodox Church — 93
- The Coronation of Alexander III in 1883 — 95

5 Success in War — 100

- Victory or Defeat — 100
- The Deposition of Napoleon I — 106
- Napoleon III — 110
- The Fall of the Second French Empire — 113
- The Abdication of Nicholas II — 115
- Symbolic Manifestations of the Prussian and German Military Monarchy — 119
- The Overthrow of William II — 124
- The Renunciation of Charles I — 131

6 Enlightenment — 139

- Diderot and Catherine II — 139
- Cameralistics — 141
- Peter the Great — 142
- Legitimacy through Reform — 145
- Political Mechanics — 147
- Enlightened Absolutism — 150
- Taxation without Reform — 158
- The Monarchy in the Revolution — 159
- Enlightenment and the Age of Revolution — 160

7 Constitution — 163

- Democratic Constitutionalism: The Monarchy under the Constitution of 1791 — 163
- Referendum and Plebiscite — 167
- The Caesarism of Napoleon III — 171
- Monarchical Constitutionalism — 174

- Imposition and Restoration — 176
 - Russia's Transition to Constitutionalism — 182
 - The Statuto Albertino of 1848 — 189
 - Napoleonic Constitutionalism — 190
 - Constitutional Conflict — 192
 - The German Empire — 194
 - Constitutional Celebrations — 196
- 8 Nation — 209
- Dynastic States and Nation States — 209
 - The Creation of the Monarchy by the Nation — 210
 - The Creation of the Nation by the Monarch — 214
 - Particularism in Germany — 219
 - Official Nationality in the Russian Empire — 223
 - Monarchy and National Movement — 227
- 9 Social Reform — 232
- Lorenz von Stein's Social Kingdom — 232
 - The Social Ideas of Napoleon III — 233
 - The Economic and Social Policy of the Second Empire — 236
 - Victoria and Albert — 240
 - Bismarck's Social Legislation — 243
 - Friedrich Naumann's Social Kingship — 244
 - The Abolition of Serfdom in Russia — 245
 - Principles of Liberal Social Reform: The Italian Example — 248
- 10 Charisma — 253
- The Charismatic Savior — 253
 - Napoleon I — 254
 - Napoleon III — 255
 - The Charismatic Tsar — 257
 - Giuseppe Garibaldi and Victor Emanuel II — 259
 - Michail Skobelev and Alexander III — 264
 - Paul von Hindenburg and William II — 268
 - The Dynastic Ruler as Hero — 273
 - Monarchical Heroes' Memorials — 276
- 11 Summary — 283
- 12 List of Abbreviations — 287

X — Contents

13 Picture Credits — 288

14 Bibliography — 289

Index — 324