

CONTENTS

Introduction. Reformations Lost and Found	1
Carina L. Johnson

I. Silencing Plurality

1. Misremembering Hybridity: The Myth of Goldenstedt	23
David M. Luebke
2. A Luther for Everyone: Irenicism and Orthodoxy at the German Reformation Anniversaries of 1817	45
Stan M. Landry
3. Challenging Plurality: Wilhelm Horning and the Histories of Alsatian Lutheranism	67
Anthony J. Steinhoff
4. Confessional Histories of Women and the Reformation from the Eighteenth to the Twenty-First Century	89
Merry Wiesner-Hanks
5. Catholics as Foreign Bodies: The County of Mark as a Protestant Territory in Nineteenth- and Twentieth-Century Prussian Historiography	111
Ralf-Peter Fuchs

II. Recovering Plurality

6. A Catholic Genealogy of Protestant Reason	131
Richard Schaefer
7. Fighting or Fostering Plurality? Ernst Salomon Cyprian as a Historian of Lutheranism in the Early Eighteenth Century	151
Alexander Schunka
8. Heresy and the Protestant Enlightenment: Johann Lorenz von Mosheim's History of Michael Servetus	173
Michael Printy

9. The Great Fire of 1711: Reconceptualizing the Jewish Ghetto and Jewish-Christian Relations in Early Modern Frankfurt am Main 193
Dean Phillip Bell

III. Excavating Histories of Religion

10. The Early Roots of Confessional Memory: Martin Luther Burns the Papal Bull on 10 December 1520 221
Natalie Krentz
11. Early Modern German Historians Confront the Reformation's First Executions 242
Robert Christman
12. Prison Tales: The Miraculous Escape of Stephen Agricola and the Creation of Lutheran Heroes during the Sixteenth Century 262
Marjorie Elizabeth Plummer
13. Invented Memories: The Convent of Wesel and the Origins of German and Dutch Calvinism 284
Jesse Spohnholz

IV. Remembering and Forgetting

14. "Our Misfortune": National Unity versus Religious Plurality in the Making of Modern Germany 307
Thomas A. Brady, Jr.

- Index* 335