

Contents

Introduction	1
1 The EU product compliance, safety and liability regime	5
1.1 Vehicle category	5
1.2 Connection between type-approval, CoP and CoC	7
1.3 Type-approval	8
1.3.1 Legal framework	8
1.3.2 Approval mark	9
1.4 UNECE	11
1.4.1 History and general legal framework	11
1.4.2 Overview of UNECE Regulations	13
1.4.3 Type-approval and reciprocal recognition	18
1.4.4 Interplay between UNECE and the EU type-approval regime	19
1.4.5 Approval mark	19
1.5 CE	21
1.5.1 History	21
1.5.2 Legal framework	22
1.5.3 EU harmonisation legislation	24
1.5.4 CE marking in seven steps	29
1.6 Technical standards	35
1.7 Different types of product defects or issues	36
1.7.1 Design	37
1.7.2 Production	37
1.7.3 Instruction	38
1.7.4 Monitoring	38
1.8 The General Product Safety Directive 2001/95/EC	39
1.8.1 Purpose and scope of application	39
1.8.2 Prohibition of placing unsafe products on the market	39
1.8.3 Safety information	40
1.8.4 Notification obligation	40
1.8.5 Market surveillance	41
1.8.6 Potential sanctions	42
1.9 RAPEX	42
1.9.1 Introduction	42
1.9.2 Legal framework	42

1.9.3	Contact point authorities	42
1.9.4	Search engine and reports	45
1.9.5	Recent figures	46
1.9.6	Best practice approaches	48
1.10	ICSMS	48
1.10.1	Introduction	48
1.10.2	Legal framework	48
1.10.3	Public section	48
1.10.4	Confidential section	49
1.10.5	Access to information	50
1.10.6	Response to inaccurate ICSMS entries	50
1.10.7	Facilitate the upload of positive information	51
1.11	International cooperation	51
1.11.1	Agreements and treaties	51
1.11.2	Conventions and organisations	52
1.11.3	OECD	52
1.12	The Product Liability Directive 85/374/EEC	53
1.12.1	Introduction	53
1.12.2	Purpose and scope of application	54
1.12.3	Claimants and defendants	55
1.12.4	Affected products	55
1.12.5	Temporal scope of application	56
1.12.6	Product defect	56
1.12.7	Damage	57
1.12.8	Causation	58
1.12.9	Strict liability	58
1.12.10	Burden of proof	58
1.12.11	Exceptions	59
2	Preventive measures to reduce potential risks to product compliance, safety and liability	60
2.1	Continuously verify compliance with mandatory legal requirements	60
2.1.1	Identification	60
2.1.2	Interpretation	61
2.1.3	Constant revision	61
2.2	Consider technical standards	62

2.2.1	Aim for compliance	62
2.2.2	Scenarios that might justify deviations from technical standards	62
2.2.3	Deliberate deviation from technical standards	63
2.3	Consider internal standards	64
2.3.1	Role	64
2.3.2	Constant revision	64
2.3.3	Effect of non-compliance	64
2.4	Strive towards full traceability	65
2.4.1	Basic principle	65
2.4.2	VIN	65
2.4.3	Serial numbers and other codes	66
2.4.4	Manufacturer contact details and genuineness	67
2.4.5	Visibility	67
2.4.6	Permanent affixing	67
2.5	Implement a product safety and product compliance monitoring system	68
2.5.1	Role	68
2.5.2	Passive product monitoring	68
2.5.3	Active product monitoring	68
2.5.4	Social media and other internet publications	70
2.5.5	Big data, the backend and connectivity	71
2.5.6	Centralised approach	71
2.5.7	Checklists and templates	72
2.5.8	Database	72
2.6	Implement a product safety and product compliance committee ..	72
2.6.1	Role	72
2.6.2	Participants	73
2.6.3	Intervals	73
2.6.4	Decision-making process	73
2.6.5	Involvement of the Legal and Compliance Department	74
2.6.6	Documentation	74
2.7	Training	74
2.8	Contractual relationships and terms	75
2.8.1	Choice of law, jurisdiction and dispute resolution	75
2.8.2	Detailed product descriptions and specifications	76
2.8.3	Agreement on incoming and outgoing goods inspections	76

2.8.4	Agreement on notice of defects and rejection procedures	76
2.8.5	Limitation of liability, recourse and indemnification clauses	77
2.8.6	Burden of proof	77
2.8.7	Statute of limitations and warranty period	77
2.8.8	Reporting of product investigations or issues	78
2.8.9	Authority notifications	78
2.8.10	Corrective actions and costs	78
2.8.11	Protection against insolvency risks	79
2.9	Documentation and paper trail	79
2.10	Prepare for a product crisis	80
2.10.1	Definition of stakeholders and reporting lines	81
2.10.2	Traceability data	81
2.10.3	Make preparations for immediate actions	82
3	Handling a product crisis	83
3.1	Take immediate action if necessary	83
3.1.1	Proceed with extra caution	83
3.1.2	Consider preliminary precautions actions	83
3.1.3	Notify insurance	84
3.1.4	Secure potential evidence	84
3.1.5	Secure potential recourse actions	84
3.1.6	Ad hoc announcement for capital market	85
3.1.7	Involving external legal counsel	85
3.2	Implement a product crisis task force	86
3.3	Investigate facts of the case	86
3.3.1	Importance of a diligent and complete investigation	86
3.3.2	Typical questions and necessary information	87
3.3.3	Sources of information	93
3.3.4	Compliance with labour and data protection laws	93
3.3.5	Protect sensitive information	94
3.4	Risk assessment	95
3.4.1	Legal background	95
3.4.2	Meaning of risk	96
3.4.3	Anticipate potential injury scenarios	97
3.4.4	Assess probability of the occurrence of potential injury scenarios	99
3.4.5	Combine hazard with probability to obtain risk level	99
3.4.6	Format	100

3.5	Legal assessment	101
3.5.1	Public law	102
3.5.2	Civil law	102
3.5.3	Criminal law	103
3.6	Authority notifications	103
3.6.1	Legal background	103
3.6.2	Content	104
3.6.3	Deadlines	105
3.6.4	Notification of authorities in several jurisdictions	105
3.6.5	EU Business Application	106
3.6.6	Foreign notification obligations outside of the EU	107
3.7	Corrective actions	108
3.7.1	Legal background	108
3.7.2	Accurate type	108
3.7.3	Accurate description	109
3.7.4	Role of risk levels	109
3.7.5	Role of retrieval rates	109
3.8	Crisis communication	110
3.8.1	Accuracy	110
3.8.2	Consistency	111
3.8.3	Simultaneous information	112
3.8.4	Methods of communication	112
3.8.5	Local languages, customs and other challenges	113
3.8.6	No acknowledgements	113
3.8.7	Internal briefings and trainings	113
3.8.8	Handle public warnings	114
3.9	Handle liability claims including recourse actions	114
3.9.1	Liability claims by customers, end-customers, users and others ..	114
3.9.2	Recourse actions within the supply/distribution chain	115
3.10	AAR and lessons learned	116
3.11	Final report and closure of the matter	117
Appendices		120
General Product Safety Directive 2001/95/EC (Excerpt)		120
Product Liability Directive 85/374/EEC (Excerpt)		136
Type-Approval Framework Directive 2007/46/EC (Excerpt)		142
List of abbreviations		173