

Contents

Foreword — VII

Editorial Note — IX

Acknowledgments — XI

List of Illustrations — XV

Reflections on Jewish Studies, the Jerusalem School and the Research on the Era of the “Final Solution” — 1

I German Jewry under the National Socialism in Historical Perspective

- 1 German Jewry under the National Socialism in Historical Perspective — 13
- 2 History and Historical Consciousness. Similarities and Dissimilarities in the History of German and Czech Jews 1918–1945 — 37

II Modern Antisemitism and the Ideology of the “Final Solution”

- 3 Critique of Judaism in European Thought. On the Historical Meaning of Modern Antisemitism — 63
- 4 Richard Wagner and the Origins of the Redemptive Antisemitism — 77
- 5 Uniqueness in Context. Review of Ian Kershaw, To Hell and Back: Europe 1914–1949 — 95

III German Society and the Jews under the Nazi Regime

- 6 Popular Opinion in Nazi Germany and the “Jewish Question” — 109

- 7 German Population in Nazi Germany as a Factor in the Policy of the “Solution of the Jewish Question”: The Nuremberg Laws and the Reichskristallnacht — 143
- 8 German Population and the “Solution of the Jewish Question” at the Time of the Wannsee Conference — 171

IV Jewish Society and its Leadership in Nazi Germany

- 9 Jewish Society in Germany as Reflected in Secret Nazi Reports on Popular Opinion 1933–1943 — 181
- 10 The Reichsvereinigung and the Fate of the Jews. Continuity or Discontinuity in German-Jewish History in the Third Reich — 197
- 11 Ghetto in an Annihilation Camp. Jewish Social History in the Years of the “Final Solution” and its Ultimate Limits — 209

V Historiography of the National Socialism and the “Final Solution”

- 12 Major Trends and Tendencies in German Historiography on National Socialism and the “Final Solution” 1924–1984 — 227
- 13 Singularity and its Relativization. Changing Views in German Historiography on National Socialism and the “Final Solution” — 267
- 14 The Historikerstreit from a Personal Retrospective. On the “Case Nolte” and his Generation — 295

VI In Search of History and Memory

- 15 In Search of History and Memory. Excerpts from Landscapes of the Metropolis of Death — 311

Annotated References — 327

Index of Names and Places — 333